SOVIETS PLAY LOSING GAME OPPOSING U. S.

EFFORTS TO SPLIT EUROPE DOOMED TO FAILURE

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, July 12 (AP)—Soviet Russia, with its once great veto power in world affairs much curtailed, is playing a losing game in trying to split Europe and wreck the Marshall plan for European recovery, American officials said today.

The plan will go through to the fullest extent possible without them and in spite of threats and protests, it was said here. There is considerable speculation even that in the long run they will be unable to hold their own eastern bloc countries in line.

"The Russians appear to have won an empty victory," said one official.

All Want Help

Surprising new evidence that the Soviets themselves as well as their satellite governments may be beginning to realize this was seen today in an extraordinary outburst of reports that Russian bloc countries would like to share in American assistance to Europe despite their boycott of the Marshall plan meeting at Paris.

This sudden and perhaps very significant turn of events found American officials privately emphasizing what Secretary Marshall is reported to have told the Senate foreign relations committee's secret session yesterday:

As a matter of fact the United States does not yet admit a split Europe, is working with a very fluid situation in relation to Russia at the moment and has a wait and see attitude toward the Paris conference and the whole European recovery picture.

No Showdown Desired

However, several other points describing state department view toward the current critical issues can be added on excellent authority:

1. The American government is determined to support to the limit any reasonable plan for European recovery worked out at Paris and no amount of Russian opposition will change this. Russia no longer has the veto she once had by virtue of an Anglo-American conviction that great power unity was more important than anything else.

2. The American government does not now desire to force a showdown with Russia all along the line of political and economic relations and in the United Nations—where, of course, Russia's veto is still good. But it will meet any challenge the Soviets force. Thus in Germany it is pressing economic revival jointly with the British and in spite of major Soviet disagreements on this point.

3. There are some Russo-American issues the American government will press in all probability. Among them are political conditions in Hungary and perhaps throughout the Balkans due to Russian domination. This probably will be one of the great controversies of the United Nations assembly meeting at New York in September.

Against the background of these policy views state department officials studied mounting reports from eastern Europe today that powerful forces are working below the surface there to overcome the effect of the Kremlin's edict that barred eight Russian satellite governments from attendance at

BIDDLE DROPPED AS U. S. NOMINEE

Vandenberg Accused Of Bottling Up Action On New Dealer

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
Washington, July 12 (AP)—President Truman today broke a five-months' deadlock over his nomination of Francis Biddle to be U. S. representative on the United Nations economic and social council by withdrawing the appointment at Biddle's request.

Biddle, former attorney general under the late President Roosevelt, accused Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) of the Senate foreign relations committee of bottling up the nomination since Jan. 29. Biddle preferred a showdown, he said, but there was no chance of action before Congress adjourns.

He asked that another appointment be made since the council already had held one meeting without American representation in March and another in scheduled for July 19.

The president complied by nominating Willard L. Thorp, of Westport, Conn., now assistant secretary of state for economic affairs. He will serve in both jobs concurrently without added compensation, it confirmed to the new post. Thorp, a native of Oswego, N. Y., is 48. He held several high economic posts in the government after serving as an economics teacher at the University of Michigan and Amherst. He was director of the U. S. bureau of foreign and domestic commerce for the first three years of the new deal.

Republican opposition to Biddle, a member of a prominent Philadelphia family, is reported to have stemmed from his "new deal" viewpoint. Some GOP members of Vandenberg's committee expressed the view last May that such a viewpoint should not be carried to the U. N. council.

Five-Year Trade Pact Set Up By Czechs And Reds

Prague, July 12 (AP)—Czechoslovakia and Russia announced tonight a five-year agreement exchanging Russian food for Czech machinery and manufactured goods.

It was viewed as possibly setting up a basis for an eastern European economy of barter for goods, not participating in the Marshall plan.

Informed sources said it seemed likely here that Poland and other eastern European nations which turned their backs on the Paris conference at a nod from Moscow might have been offered similar increased trade pacts to make up for the assistance they had hoped for in the general European recovery plan.

Honeymoon In U. S. Too Expensive For British Princess

London, July 12 (AP)—American-born Lady Astor invited Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten today to spend their honeymoon at her Virginia home, but a Buckingham Palace spokesman said it was unlikely they would accept.

"I don't think they will even go abroad," he added.

The dollar shortage loomed as one strike against any trip to the Blue Ridge Mountain country. Fears were voiced that such expenditures might be in questionable taste at a time when Britain needs every dollar for vital American imports.

Discharged Capitol Policeman Shoots At Senator Bricker

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Two pistol shots missed Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) today in a burst of gunfire on Capitol Hill and police arrested a discharged capitol policeman on charges of assault with intent to kill the senator.

The accused, William L. Kaiser, calmly and cryptically told police and newspapermen:

"I did it to refresh his memory."

The shooting set the capitol in a turmoil during the midst of an unusual Saturday session of the Senate. It took place in the subway linking the capitol with the Senate office building.

Bricker was carried to safety by a wide-spread manhunt for the next several hours.

The silver-haired 1944 Republican vice presidential candidate and a companion crouched behind one of the car's seats as it slowly got underway.

Bricker, apparently undisturbed, told reporters that Kaiser blamed him for losses in a building and loan association at Columbus about 15 years ago.

Records show that Kaiser was a capitol police appointee of his predecessor, Senator Huffman (R-Ohio). Bricker told a questioner that he had nothing to do with Kaiser losing this job last April.

Kaiser was arrested by metropolitan police several hours after the shooting and many blocks from the capitol at a Massachusetts Avenue address. Police at Precinct No. 1 booked him on charges of assault with intent to kill.

Bricker and two others who were in the line of gunfire after the shooting and many blocks from the capitol at a Massachusetts Avenue address. Police at Precinct No. 1 booked him on charges of assault with intent to kill.

Bricker said he believed the shots were blanks because he did not hear any bullets strike. Later

POLICE HUNTING OHIO STRANGLER

Ex-Convict Accused Of Killing Young Mother In Churchyard

Marion, O., July 12 (AP)—An ex-convict, who has a crippled wife and a four-year-old son, was charged today with strangling a pretty divorcee whose partly nude body was found in a country churchyard.

Edwin D. Young was charged with first-degree murder as police and sheriffs throughout Ohio searched for the 39-year-old truck driver and his battered 1933 Chevrolet coupe.

Prosecutor James E. Reed, of Marion county, filed the charge some 24 hours after Mrs. Zora Gerbes, 25, was found dead with a rope clothesline wrapped about her neck in a slip-knot.

The line also was wound about her knees, which were drawn up almost to her chin.

Young did not go home Thursday night or report for work at a trucking company Friday morning.

The crime was discovered by two brothers, Charles Yeager, 20, and Harry, 22, about 2 a. m. Friday when their automobile headlights illuminated a car in the driveway of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

The license number of the car was traced to Young. The brothers found a man with the body and said he told them:

"There's my license number, what are you going to do about it?"

The brothers said they intended to notify the sheriff, but when the stranger said he would go along, they refused to let him in their car. "We were frightened about him," they explained.

When sheriff's officers arrived at the scene shortly after, the man and the car were gone.

Pastor Has Early Informal Worship For Outdoor Folks

Champaign, Ill., July 12 (AP)—Golf, fishing or picnic dates will be no excuse for missing services at the Grace Lutheran church tomorrow.

In a newspaper advertisement today, the Rev. A. C. Larsen, pastor, invited all sportsmen to a special 7 a. m. service. The ad said: "Dress for your sports and come to church. Leave that necktie and coat at home."

capitol police found nicks in the wall and on a pipe that may have been caused by bullets.

Kaiser was quickly identified by Bricker and J. H. Macomber, of the staff of the Senate expenditures committee, and Jerry Albright, operator of the subway car.

After Albright delivered his passengers at the capitol end of the subway, the senator calmly left the car and walked upstairs to the Senate chamber before asking Senate aides to start police on the hunt for his assailant.

Albright rushed back to the site of the shooting and told the still-armed Kaiser to get out. He walked away and was the object of a wide-spread manhunt for the next several hours.

Bricker said that Kaiser fired the first shot at him from a distance of perhaps 15 feet and that he and Macomber made a quick jump for the subway electric car.

"Let's get the hell out of here," Bricker was quoted by both Macomber and Albright.

DEWEY PUSHED INTO SPOTLIGHT

Republican Chiefs Meet New York Governor At Salt Lake City

BY HENRY LEADER

Salt Lake City, July 12 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey captured the spotlight among state chief executives arriving early to attend the annual conference of governors here next week.

Republican leaders of Utah met him at the train, and later in the day GOP leaders from Idaho and Nevada conferred with him in his suite.

George T. Hansen, National committeeman from Utah, said in an interview that sentiment for a 1948 presidential nominee had crystallized in the state but added that Dewey and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio had considerable strength.

Political observers believe Idaho and Nevada Republican bigwigs favor Dewey. All three mountain states backed the New Yorker in his winning of the 1944 presidential nomination.

Forty-two state governors and governors of the territories of Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico are scheduled to attend the conference, which will be highlighted by a speech by Secretary of State George C. Marshall Monday night. Marshall will fly to Salt Lake City tomorrow.

Gov. Earl Warren of California was due to arrive by plane this afternoon and his coming stirred fresh speculation of a possible renewed effort by the Dewey forces to persuade him to take the vice-presidential nomination should the New York governor head the ticket.

Sen. John W. Bricker of Ohio, Dewey's running mate in 1944, will arrive late tomorrow night by plane. He is expected to sound out Taft sentiment among the Republican governors.

Diesel Engine Runs Wild Without Crew For Over 50 Miles

Auburn, Ill., July 12 (AP)—A crewless diesel switch engine, speeding at 60-miles-an-hour, was recovered without casualties today after it had traveled more than 50 miles.

A crew in another locomotive intercepted the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio's Alton route locomotive, which started its crewless journey from the yards at Alton, Ill., northeast of St. Louis after the crew had left the cab momentarily. Auburn is 18 miles southeast of Springfield.

As the locomotive sped out of the yards word was flashed ahead to points along the line into Springfield. At several points railroad crews were preparing to derail the engine when it sped past.

Near Virden, Ill., 25 miles south of Springfield, another Alton locomotive with caboose attached waited on the same track for the runaway to appear. When it did, Engineer Robert Tipton of Bloomington, Ill., regulated his speed to allow the diesel to gradually overtake the caboose.

When Tipton's locomotive and the runaway diesel came together gradually near here crewmen were able to couple the truant locomotive to the caboose and shut off the runaway's power.

SENATE PUTS OFF VOTE ON TAX SLASHING

PASSAGE ASSURED MONDAY; VETO CERTAIN

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Republican sponsors failed in an effort to ram the $4,000,000,000 income tax cut bill through at a night Senate session tonight, and final action was put off until Monday.

A vote then—with passage assured—was arranged in an informal gentlemen's agreement between leaders of Democratic and Republican parties.

The GOP leadership once turned down such an agreement, but accepted it later after Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky told them he believed President Truman will veto the measure promptly without waiting the usual ten days.

Adjournment Goal Set

Barkley, in giving his ideas of what the President will do, shouted that he was "astonished" at what some Republicans apparently feared, that either Senate Democrats or Mr. Truman "would indulge in some kind of chicanery" to delay adjournment of Congress July 26.

That adjournment goal is bound up in the action on the tax measure. The President, can if he desires, wait ten days—not counting Sundays—between the time he gets the bill and the time he gives it his promised veto. Delay in acting on the bill would cut the time for a vote to override if the President took the full ten days.

With the informal agreement accepted the Senate recessed at 7:49 p. m. Eastern Standard Time to noon Monday.

The decision came after nearly ten hours of debate during which eight amendments by Senator Morse (R-Ore), including one to postpone the effect of the tax cut for at least a year past next Jan. 1, were turned down.

Delay Sidelined

Still to be acted upon was the controversial amendment by Senator McClellan (D-Ark.) to extend so-called community property benefits to taxpayers of all the states.

He claimed support of at least 26 senators for his amendment to give taxpayers in all states the benefits now enjoyed in community property states.

Barkley said that it would "be silly and futile" for the President to try and delay signing the bill to avoid overriding of the veto and added:

"The President of the United States is not that kind of a man."

Senator Lucas (D-Ill.), acting as minority leader, made the original suggestion for an informal agreement to vote Monday.

NEGROES GIVEN VOTING RIGHTS

Court Victory Abolishes White Democrat Edict In South Carolina

Charleston, S. C., July 12 (AP)—South Carolina Negroes won a court victory today in their fight for the right to participate in the state's Democratic primary, limited by party rules since 1944 exclusively to "White Democrats."

U. S. District Judge J. Waties Waring held that Negroes are entitled to be enrolled to vote in the Democratic primaries.

The case was brought by George Elmore, a Columbia Negro, who contended he had been denied enrollment because of his color.

Waring, in another case, turned down the petition of John H. Wright, Charleston Negro, for a court order directing his admission to the University of South Carolina Law School, but he ruled that Wright would be entitled to enter next year the opening of the next school year the state provides an adequate course in the College for Negroes at Orangeburg.

One other alternative was possible, he said. That would be that "the state furnish no law school education to any persons of either the White or Negro races."

LIGHTNING KILLS BOYS

Sykesville, Md., July 12 (AP)—Two young sons of an assistant physician at Springfield state hospital were found dead in a nearby field tonight, and authorities believed they had been struck by lightning during a brief storm.

The boys were 14-year-old Fred and eight-year-old George Winiarz, sons of Dr. Witold Winiarz.

Michigan Legislature Adjourned Noon By 11 Of 130 Lawmakers

Lansing, July 12 (AP)—A handful of legislators formally adjourned the 64th Michigan legislature at noon today.

The adjournment proceedings, conducted by three senators and eight representatives out of a total of 130 law makers, was routine except in one of its by-products.

This was the reading of a report by Rep. Harry J. Phillips, Port Huron republican, on his investigation of conditions at the Public State hospital. The report charged "almost unbelievable mistreatment" of patients at the hospital.

The legislature will not meet again until it assembles at the call of Governor Sigler for a special session in January.

Lack of a quorum made it impossible for the legislature to transact business. Earlier, 18 senators and 30 representatives gathered for the sine die session but the ranks of these were soon depleted as they discovered they would be only rubber-stamp approvers of the closing formalities.

The small showing blocked any attempt that might have been made to override Governor Sigler's 10 vetoes. The Governor was on his way to a Salt Lake City convention as the senate unanimously approved 12 of Sigler's appointments still hanging.

The 64th State legislature left behind it a showing of 396 bills enacted and a budget some $10,000,000 in the red.

Legislation to enact the veterans' bonus, new Child Labor law, lobby control legislation and an extension of State control over insurance were claimed as outstanding achievements by the law-makers.

The legislature also tossed the bitterly-disputed sales tax amendment back in the laps of the voters by providing that the measure to cut school and local governments in on sales tax funds

Gouging In Rents Charged; CIO Head Asks Sigler To Act

Detroit, July 12 (AP)—R. J. Thomas, CIO United Auto Workers vice-president and National CIO Housing committee chairman, said today he had asked Governor Kim Sigler to summon a special session of the legislature to enact control legislation.

"I have received literally thousands of complaints from Michigan residents concerning attempts made by landlords to gouge fantastic increases out of their tenants," Thomas wrote.

"It would be intolerable if an already acute housing shortage were to be made even worse and if the people of Michigan were to suffer additional hardships through wholesale rent increases and evictions," Thomas said.

SQUEEZE-OUT FROM SIGLER IS PREDICTED

DEARBORN DOCTOR BUYS BILLBOARDS FOR 1948

Detroit, July 12. (AP)—Lieut. Governor Eugene C. Keyes said today that he has made plans to run for governor in 1948.

"If the Sigler administration puts the squeeze on me I definitely will be a candidate for governor in 1948," he said at his home in Dearborn.

While he did not rule out the possibility that he might change his mind, Keyes said he had contracted for billboard space for the 1948 gubernatorial campaign.

He did so, he said, the day after Gov. Sigler labelled him an "obstructionist" before Associated Press editors meeting at Higgins like the first week in June.

"I see no reason, thus far, to recant in that decision," he added.

Keyes said his relations with Sigler since that time had been amicable and said "we're now on friendly terms." But, he continued, the "shock and affront" of Sigler's charges of obstructionism still linger.

Ready This Time

The lieutenant governor said he did not intend to "come up to the barrier again" without knowing where he stood in the Michigan political scene. He referred to the action of former Gov. Harry F. Kelly in dumping him overboard in 1944 in favor of Vernon J. Brown.

If Sigler selected someone else as a running mate, he continued, or "when he goes to Washington" the Dearborn physician-dentist-lawyer will seek to succeed him.

Keyes said he feels that Sigler will seek to succeed Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) or Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) if either is elevated to higher office.

The lieutenant governor was asked the following question: "If Gov. Sigler did not put the squeeze on you and asked you to run again on his ticket, would you do so?"

"That's the way I had intended it—up to three weeks ago," was

Crowded Highways Follow Heat Wave; Fatalities Mount

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The barometer of Michigan's summertime weekends, the list of dead and injured, mounted to five yesterday as hot weather brought a fresh outpouring of tourists and resorters.

Two auto crashes in the Flint-Saginaw area claimed four lives and injured 11 persons Friday night and Saturday morning.

The United States weather bureau forecast a Sunday high temperature of 86 degrees, indicating to traffic authorities that thousands would take to the highways in an attempt to escape the heat.

The forecast called for partly cloudy weather through Sunday with scattered thundershowers likely late in the day.

Fifty-nine persons met violent death in the state on the last two weekends. Thirty-one died the weekend of June 29 and 28 others were killed over the extended July 4 holiday.

SCHEDULE SEED POTATO CHECK

First Inspection Here
Of Certified Seed
Starts Monday

A schedule of first inspections of certified potato seed plots on 37 farms in Delta county will be made starting Monday. It was announced yesterday by Joseph Heirman, county agricultural agent. Delta county is one of the leading certified seed production areas in the state.

The inspection will be made by Roy Walker, former county agent of Marquette county, who will be accompanied by Heirman.

The schedule of inspections, with the names of the certified potato growers, is as follows:

Monday morning—Clarence Dittich, Ralph Peterson, Fenlon Bros.; Afternoon—Adolph Lippens, Phil Lippens, Louis Heyneskens, Matt Ledvina.

Tuesday morning—Dona Barron, Jules VanDamme, Marcell Jodocy; Afternoon—Schire Bros., Grey Knaus, Harold Woodard, Jerome DeBacker.

Thursday morning—Clarence Sundquist, Joe Charon, Alex Chanton; Afternoon—Len Arbour, Con Vermote, George Williamson, Henry LaChapelle.

Friday morning—Octave Carrigan, John Marcella, Frank Barron, Vincent Rappette; Afternoon—Isaac Hagman, John Moser, George Larson, Hilding Olson, Adolph Gonsheki.

Expect To Move
Gravel Crusher
To Cornell Area

The Delta county road commission in meeting yesterday morning received a petition signed by 15 residents of the Cornell area asking the maintenance graveling of County Road 523 between Cornell and Boney Falls. Aware that the road needs gravel, it was announced by the commission that it is expected that the county's new gravel crushing plant will be moved to the Cornell area before next fall.

The commission also rescinded a motion made about one year ago in which had ordered two dump trucks from the Northern Motor company. The cancelling of the order was by mutual agreement since it has been impossible to make delivery.

Among other commission business yesterday was a motion authorizing an advertisement for bids for the purchase of four sanding machines by the county road commission. The commis-

Chase S. Osborn Returns To Sault

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—Gov. Chase S. Osborn is home.

Still in a wheel chair while the effects of a hip fracture wear off, the former chief executive of Michigan (1911-12) made the trip from Detroit yesterday via Michigan Central's new sleeper Thursday and last night was accompanied to Duck Island in lower St. Mary's river by his son, George A. Osborn, Sault publisher, and his adopted daughter, Stella Osborn, who came to the Sault with him from Possum Poke in Poulam, Georgia. Also in the party was the governor's attendant, Gib.

The governor rested at the Hotel Ojibway after his arrival by train. He appeared to be in better health than in years; he chatted with friends graciously and despite the fact that he is nearly blind, his eyes brightened with recognition at the mention of familiar names.

The governor looked forward eagerly to his summer on Duck Island, his retreat for many years.

CHERRY CROP DECLINE SEEN

Wisconsin's Production
Expected To Drop
To One Half

Sturgeon Bay, Wis.—The nation's cherry crop will fall 68,500,000 pounds short of last year's output, and the total for Wisconsin, one of the chief cherry producing states, will drop more than a half.

That announcement was made Friday by Karl S. Reynolds, Lougee Stedman, W. L. Thenell and Ray Lensmeyer, all of Sturgeon Bay, after a two day, 2,000 mile air trip to the nation's principal cherry growing states.

The men traveled in a four place plane owned by Reynolds Brothers, Inc., and piloted by Karl Reynolds. They landed beside cherry orchards throughout the nation to make spot checks of growing, harvesting and marketing conditions.

See 18,000,000 Pounds Michigan, Wisconsin and New York lead all other states in crop prospects, but Wisconsin's orchards in Door county are expected to yield only 18,000,000 to 20,000,000 pounds as compared with the 1946 bumper crop of 40,000,000 pounds. The Michigan total was expected to be 85,000,000 pounds, down from last year's 110,000,000. New York was expected to produce a crop of 20,000,000 pounds, against last season's output of 32,000,000. Last year Wisconsin beat out New York for the position of second ranking state.

The reason for Wisconsin's poor cherry crop prospects was a mystery to orchard men. They said that the weather in the pollination season was "ideal" although it followed a wet, cold spring. One theory advanced was that the bumper 1946 crop had drained the trees of vitality to produce a similar crop in a successive year.

Need Sales Effort The crop in northern Michigan is expected to be 80 percent to 85 percent of the 1946 total. But in central and southern Michigan and in New York, the crop was cut by rainy spring days.

Officials said a vigorous promotion and sales effort was needed to maintain an "eager market" for canned and cold packed cherries.

The men said Ohio's orchards would yield 2,500,000 pounds, the same figure reported in 1946. Western states covered in the survey will produce 8,500,000 pounds, compared with last season's 24,000,000 pound yield, it was predicted.

JUNIOR C. OF C. MEETS JULY 19

Dr. Russell Stevenson
OF U. OF M. Will Be Speaker

Dr. Russell Stevenson, dean of the school of business administration of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, will be the principal speaker at the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce charter night banquet program Saturday, July 19.

Arrangements for the speaking program are being made by Dr. Roy Johnson, Junior Chamber of Commerce president, and Atty. Wheaton Strom. The charter night banquet is expected to be attended by about 200 persons and will be served in the Sherman hotel.

Municipal League Plans U. P. Meeting

Marquette, Mich.—The Michigan Municipal League, cooperative organization of nearly 300 cities and villages in the state, will hold its 49th annual meeting in Marquette Sept. 10-12, Mayor James J. Beckman announced.

Marquette last summer was host to the tenth Upper Peninsula regional conference of the organization, but this is the first time the all-state meeting of elected officials and employees from a majority of Michigan communities has been held in this city.

Officials here believe it is also the first time the state conference has been held in the Upper Peninsula.

Organized to improve municipal government and administration through cooperative effort—what its officials call "grass roots democracy"—the league, which has its headquarters in Ann Arbor, maintains several services for its membership.

Death Takes Walter Sjogren In Toledo

Mrs. Edward LeGault, 328 South Eighth street, was called to Toledo, Ohio, by the death of her brother, Walter Sjogren, Friday night. Mr. Sjogren, well known in Escanaba for his summer visits, had been ill only a short time from pneumonia and died in the hospital in Toledo.

The body is being accompanied to Menominee, his former home, by Mrs. LeGault. Funeral services will be held in Menominee.

Survivors of Mr. Sjogren are his mother, Mrs. Peter Sjogren, 328 South Eighth street, Escanaba, a brother, Norman of Appleton, Wis., and Mrs. LeGault of Escanaba.

Mr. Sjogren was a veteran of Company L in the first World War.

Munising News

Nundahl-Glatus Nuptials Held Here Saturday

Munising—The Eden Lutheran church, decorated with bouquets of mixed summer garden flowers, was the setting at 5 yesterday afternoon for the marriage of Miss Martha Marie Nundahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nundahl, 1025 Rhode Island street, Sturgeon Bay, Wis., to Robert Glatus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Glatus, East Munising. The Rev. H. A. Larson, minister, performed the ceremony.

Miss Marilyn Glatus, sister of the bridegroom, attended the bride and Allen Christoferson, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man. Music of the ceremony was composed of a solo, "I Love You Truly," sung by Clifford Ebbeson; and a duet, "At Dawning," sung by Miss Gladys Hanson and Mr. Ebbeson. Ushers were: W. C. Reynard, Schuyler Jorgenson, James Thompson and Clifford Husson.

The bride was attired in a floor length white gown with pointed sleeves, satin bodice, a beaded neckline and a full chiffon skirt with a long train. Her bouquet was of pink gladioli.

The maid-of-honor wore a blue taffeta gown with a sweetheart neckline and a full gathered skirt. She carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

Mrs. Nundahl, the bride's mother, wore a navy blue silk crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore black crepe dress and a corsage of white carnations.

A wedding supper was held in the Eden Lutheran church parlors at 6:30 p. m. for 40 guests. The dining room was decorated with peonies and bouquets of mixed summer garden flowers.

The couple will take a wedding trip through the Copper country in the Upper Peninsula and upon their return will make their summer home at 717½ West Superior street, Munising. Mr. and Mrs. Glatus will move to East Lansing in September where Mr. Glatus will continue his studies at Michigan State college.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Allen Christoferson, Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Jorgenson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nundahl, all of Sturgeon Bay, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Troeving, Mrs. Bongsto, of Ishpeming; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Husson of Detroit; and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Burke of Chicago.

1947 U. P. State Fair

WITH the Hiawathaland Festival and the National Rodeo tournament of 1947 passed into history, our attention is now directed towards the Upper Peninsula State Fair which will be held at Escanaba Aug. 19-24, inclusive, when the Delta county once again will be host to thousands of visitors.

Plans for the State Fair are shaping up excellently and Harold Lindsay, secretary, reports that the 1947 exposition will be bigger and better than ever before. The demand for exhibit space has exceeded all previous years, and the quality of the exhibits will set a new high.

The finest entertainment available has been secured for the 1947 grandstand and midway shows. Although costs have risen sharply in the past year, low admission prices will again be in effect, both for gate admittances and for the grandstand performances.

Increasing the livestock premiums undoubtedly will result in more and better exhibits in these departments. All livestock premiums offered at the state fairs in Wisconsin and Minnesota. Actually they are higher because the U. P. State Fair does not assess an exhibitor's fee and stall fees are considerably lower than in other state fairs.

The U. P. fair, revived last year after a wartime lapse, was a grand exposition, reflecting the Upper Peninsula progress in agriculture and industry. The 1947 fair promises to be even bigger and better.

Vandenberg, the Statesman

THE exceptionally high esteem in which Michigan's senior statesman, Senator Arthur Vandenberg, is held by his congressional colleagues was recently revealed in a poll conducted by Pageant magazine.

Pageant magazine asked the 233 Democratic senators and representatives, "As a Democrat, which Republican would you least like to see nominated for the presidency next year? In other words, which man would be hardest to beat?"

There were 119 replies to the query and 56 of them named Senator Vandenberg. Governor Dewey was a poor second with only 18 votes, followed by Senator Warren with 11, Senator Taft with 10, Brucker with nine, Stassen nine, Martin three and Gen. Eisenhower one.

That the tribute paid Senator Vandenberg by his colleagues of the opposition party is genuine and sincere can not be doubted. Senator Vandenberg's views on foreign affairs and his power in the senate are respected on both sides of the aisle.

Senator Vandenberg's political stature has skyrocketed in recent years. Today he plays a major role in shaping America's foreign policy, a Republican whose counsel in foreign affairs is eagerly sought and respected by the Democratic administration and equally respected by his Republican colleagues.

Arms for Greece

THE United States government has announced that even before actual reconstruction efforts in Greece get into full swing, a shipment of military equipment valued at $35,000,000 is being sent to Greece from this country.

The purpose of the military supplies is to permit the Greek government to crush the rebellious bandit forces that are seeking to pave the way for Communist rule. The artillery and other military equipment is being rushed to Greece because the need for it is acute and because economic rehabilitation will be impossible until the Communist revolution is beaten.

Certainly the most important aspect of our program of aid to Greece is to keep the Russians from seizing governmental control in Greece. The Russians are arming and directing the Communist guerrillas, only they are doing it secretly. We are more honest in our approach to the situation, publicly revealing our military assistance to Greece as well as our aims and objectives.

Our program of military aid to Greece and to Turkey is not to the liking of the American people, but it is recognized that unless we provide such military assistance to those countries, they will be quickly overpowered by Communist forces and directed by Russia. What we are doing is to guarantee to Greece and Turkey that they will be given the opportunity to have a government of their own choice and not one forced upon them by Russia.

New Smelt Plague

CRYSTAL LAKE, near Beulah, Michigan, where smelt were first introduced to Michigan waters, escaped the smelt plague that swept the Great Lakes several years ago, but the smelt are now reported to be dying by the thousands in Crystal Lake.

Whether the epidemic that is now hitting Crystal Lake smelt is a backwash of the Great Lakes smelt disaster of 1942 may never be known. Fisheries experts never were able to trace the disease that all but wiped out Great Lakes smelt. All that is known is that the smelt died by the hundreds of thousands and that the annual spawning runs dropped to a mere trickle. The smelt in Great Lakes, however, are on the way back and last spring's spawning run, although belated, was extensive.

The sudden uprising of smelt plague in Crystal Lake naturally is cause for concern for the Great Lakes smelt as well.

Cash Bonds Now

THE reluctance of the U. S. senate to include on its agenda for the present session action on a bill to cash terminal pay bonds of war veterans is disappointing to those who believe in the principle of justice.

The terminal pay bonds were given to enlisted men following their discharge from service in lieu of cash, although officers of the armed services were paid in cash for their unused furlough time.

The government recognized its obligations to enlisted men in adopting the terminal pay bond law. The time is here now when full justice should be provided by permitting veterans to cash their terminal pay bonds if they desire to do so, rather than to force them to hold them for a five year period.

From the financial standpoint, the government can save money by permitting the former soldiers to cash their bonds now since the bonds carry a higher interest rate than the government can secure for its financing.

LAKE SHIPPING

(Milwaukee Journal)

Mayor Bohm of Milwaukee has sent to President Truman's advisory committee on the merchant marine a significant report compiled by Port Director Harry C. Brockel at the request of the city's harbor commissioners.

This report tells us that 102 Great Lakes vessels were removed from the inland seas for war service; that "the entire fleets of the principal package freighters were ordered into ocean service"; that two of the largest passenger ships were converted into aircraft carriers; that motorships formerly operating between the Atlantic seaboard and the lakes were forced to discontinue cargo service to lake ports.

It then explains that, although the federal maritime commission has a fleet of 3,500 vessels to dispose of, it "has not seen fit to assign so much as one ship to the Great Lakes."

Beyond that, the report charges that the railroads are meeting water borne competition at noncompensatory rates and even at a loss, with no government agency putting a stop to this effort to destroy shipping.

Because of all this, lake shipping, which affects practically all of Wisconsin, is declining. Even the bulk carrier shipments (coal, ore, stone and grain) are lessening. Shipyard activities are declining, too.

This decline directly affects in varying degree the ports of Kenosha, Racine, Milwaukee, Port Washington, Sheboygan, Two Rivers, Sturgeon Bay, Green Bay and Superior. It also affects shippers and consumers in almost all parts of Wisconsin.

Every Wisconsin port authority, every port city's common council, the state legislature itself, the governor, and organized or individual industries, shippers and consumers, ought to contact the president's advisory committee on the merchant marine and emphatically declare that they are in accord with the Milwaukee port authority's endeavor to restore Great Lakes shipping by getting needed ships back on the inland waters.

SATURDAY ROUND TABLE

Lebanon: We have an argument about the noun "gene." I say it's like Jean. My friend says "jen." Who's right?—E. F.

Answer: You are. The noun gene, "an element in a group cell that transmits a hereditary trait," is pronounced: jeh-n.

Kellogg: My husband disagrees with me on "dark complexioned." He insists on "dark complexioned."—Mrs. E. C.

Answer: Complexioned means "swarthy together, shaded." It has nothing whatever to do with one's coloring or skin. Correct: dark complexioned.

Washington: Is it correct to say, "The river has flown over the dam?"—Mrs. H. L. G.

Answer: Sorry, no. Flown is the past participle of the verb to fly, not to fly. I say: I have flown. A river doesn't fly. It flows; then the river flows; the river flows; the river has flown.

Anderson: Please give the correct pronunciation of "communist." I understand we should say "com-mun-ist." That's the way we pronounce all such words as: dog, physics, antique, last, etc.—E. J.

Answer: Communist is a French word, so we use the French pronunciation. It is pronounced: com-mun-ist. The word "communist" is pronounced: com-mun-ist.

Continuing in French the word is pronounced: com-mun-ist.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—The authoritative trade journal Iron Age says steel prices will advance, on the average $5 a ton. This is a wallop that may well send all prices up still another notch.

Childs

How much of this rise will be due to the new coal contract is not clear. The industrialists who negotiated the coal contract with John L. Lewis want to counteract the impression that it will produce another inflationary spurt in the already strained economy.

That is why they sought a conference with the president's advisers. In that conference they gave a number of reasons why they felt compelled to settle with Lewis on terms that seem, on the surface, phenomenally generous.

They pointed out that a strike would have exerted inflationary pressures which would have been felt almost immediately throughout industry. Stocks of coal were low. On the mere threat of a strike the price of spot coal, about one-third of the output, went up from $1 to $1.50 a ton.

—30 TO 50 CENT RAISE—

A settlement meant uninterrupted production and therefore no inflationary shortages. The wage increase in coal may not force coal prices as high as has been predicted. The increase may not be more than 35 to 50 cents a ton.

The men who called at the executive offices to give their version of the economics of the contract justified it on a long-range basis. From almost every point of view, the miner has been a marginal worker. When his equipment consisted of a pick and shovel, the industry could afford to ignore his marginal status. But to add an average of $15,000 per man is invested in equipment. The miner is a skilled worker and his status must be improved. Above all, it is important to keep younger men in the pits, and the best way to do that is to make the individual miner want to stay in mining.

This reasoning made sense to those who heard industry's side of the story. The new contract does give the miner certain breaks he has not had before—gains that workers in other organized fields have had for some time. It assures, for example, an 8-hour day throughout the industry.

When all this is said, however, the economic impact of the coal deal cannot be brushed aside. The president's advisers are following a policy of watchful waiting. Neither they nor anyone else can say with accuracy what the final result will be.

One estimate is that the new contract will cost the consumer approximately $500,000,000 of which $180,000,000 would be added onto the bill for steel and steel products, and $400,000,000 in additional cost for goods and services not directly related to steel production.

It will add to the operating cost of railroads and utilities. Long before the coal contract, the roads were arguing the urgent need for an increase in freight rates. The increase in the cost of coal will give them a new and potent argument. When freight and utility rates begin moving up, the current that is started will make itself felt all the way along the line until it hits the cost of chicken feed and the price of a loaf of bread, which is where it touches the farmer and the city consumer.

—STEEL INDUSTRY THRIVES—

What the industrialists did not talk about in connection with the coal contract was the position of the steel companies. Operating in the present market at nearly full capacity, their profit position is an extremely favorable one, and that is something of an understatement. A strike would have cut right across the middle of this happy profit picture.

Any further shortage in steel would agitate the touchy question of whether there is sufficient steel capacity in this country. Spokesmen for big steel insist that no more plants are necessary. Walter S. Tower, president of the Iron and Steel Institute, testified before the senate small business committee that "existing facilities should be more than capable of bringing supply into balance with demand."

But there are those who say that, if we are to have an expanding economy, we must begin at once to expand steel capacity. They want to know, for example, whether there is to be any real competition in steel on the west coast or whether the federal domination of the past is to prevail.

These are some of the larger question marks in the deal that Lewis, as boss of the miners, negotiated behind closed doors with the big men of industry.

pronounced "eek," as you have pointed out. But in French the final "e" of communicable is marked with the acute accent (accent aigu). The "e" then, is not silent (mute) but is pronounced "ay" and becomes an additional syllable. That is why, in the Anglicized pronunciation, the -ique of communicable does not follow the usual pattern of antique, physique, etc. The correct English pronunciation is: kuh-mew-uh-KAY.

Kay: What is the distinction between "communication" and "communication"?—D. E. C.

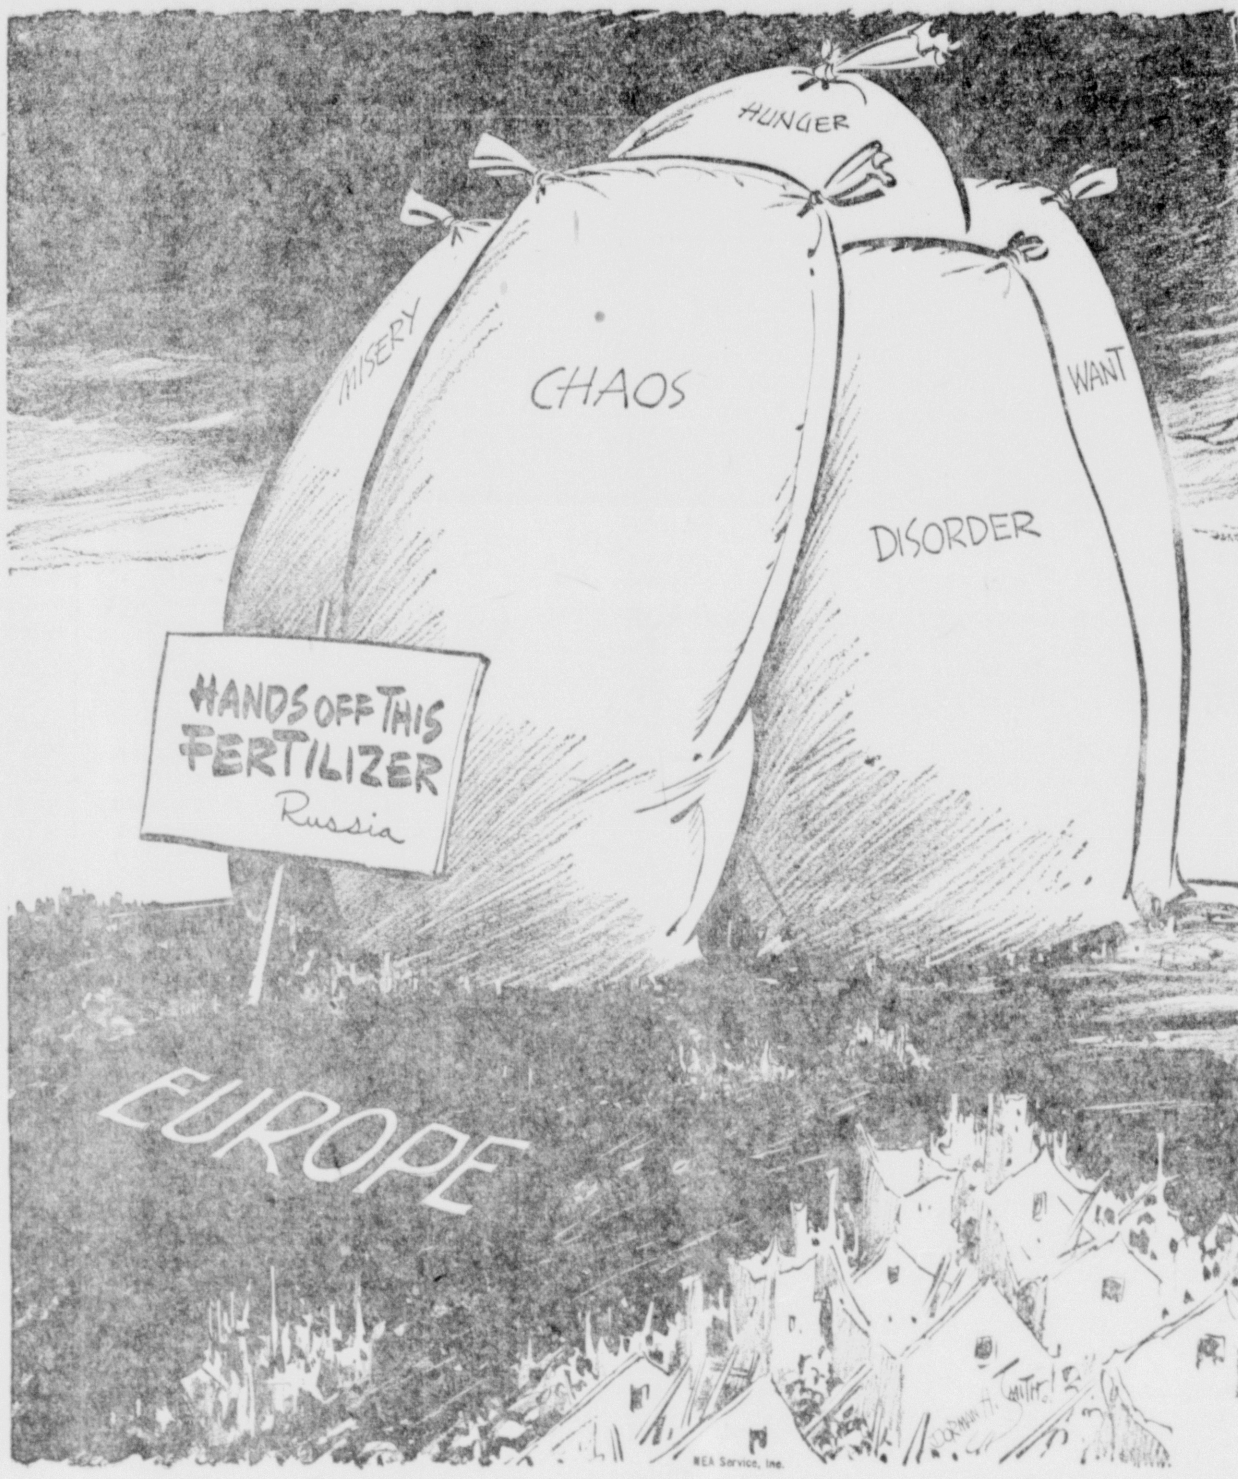

Answer: The words are interchangeable. However, communication usually describes a pungent seasoning; while the word seasoning suggests a milder flavoring.

Potomac: A leading minister pronounced the word "evil" as "EE-vil." I was taught to pronounce it "EE-vill." I wonder if you would say "evil" as "EE-vill."—E. L. F.

Answer: In speaking, the Standard American pronunciation is: EE-vil. In singing, the word "evil" falls on a held note, and is said: EE-vill. Otherwise one sings: EE-vil.

RESTATEMENT—First, we wish to thank Mr. Sohn for his letter on a subject which should arouse the American people to their obligations and responsibilities in this postwar world. Earmarked for Future Communist Harvest

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

FEEDING GERMANY—In the mail today is a letter from Robert M. Sohn of 317 Eighth street south, Gladstone. Sohn was formerly with the 104th Infantry division, served in France, Belgium, Holland and Germany. He asks publication of his letter "in the interests of a free press, and an informed reading clientele, who sometimes enjoy a difference of opinion." His letter follows:

"It seems to be characteristic of newspaper writers to expound loudly on matters about which they know nothing. Whether or not the subject is a concession to public opinion is not important."

"Your commentary on begging Germans shows a fine lack of understanding concerning the disturbing urgency of the demands of an empty belly. A person may well wax philosophic and radiate sophistication while his stomach is well-padded with beef and potatoes, but his interest in the esthetic declines in direct ratio with the emptiness of his bowel cavity. To a hungry person, there is more allure in a bowl of soup than oozes from a discourse on the wonders of democracy. No man can be a student of government while sporting an empty stomach. The most convincing argument for feeding a hungry man is to move into his environment for a short time. About the time one's belly is caressing his vertebrae, he is ready to forsake the study of government for bread and turnips. There's not much solid comfort in a volume of State and National government, as well I know, and it makes dull reading when one is stranger to the mysteries of a square meal. Dignity comes easy to a man who absorbs his meals with comforting regularity, but it is a senseless luxury for a starving man, whether he be German or Irish, Democrat or anarchist."

"Germany will never survive on a straight diet of political speeches. The Negroes in darkest Africa do not require Bibles nearly so much as they do an occasional hard. Politics and religion come both to those suffering from lack of grub."

"The late war is over, and systematically starving and freezing an entire nation is not going to enhance the value of our stock with posterity. One may preach convincingly on the horrors and evils of war, and brand a citizenry as hopeless blackguards, but a man who will allow another to starve while he burns surplus potatoes is evidence that he is a creature without a soul."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his daughter, Mrs. George Arnold.)

My Dear Daughter:

I have your letter with the clipping from the Chicago Tribune and I note that Cousin Bertie McCormick is going after me hammer-and-tongs. I am sorry you are worried.

Perhaps your father should keep out of senate battles and confirmation crusades, but I stand for certain things, and I have to fight for them. I don't see any other alternative.

One of the things I don't stand for, or rather stand against, is the Ku Klux Klan. And when I see a congressman nominated to high office who comes from a Ku Klux Klan background, I think it's up to me to bring out the facts, even if Colonel McCormick doesn't like it and even if the battle is sure to be a losing one.

As a matter of fact—and I probably know this better than anyone else in the USA—it's nearly always a losing battle when you challenge a member of the club. For congress is the most exclusive club in the world, and no matter how much the members differ with each other when an outsider attacks, they all rally to each other's defense.

I could scarcely believe it at first, but when indications of graft first began to develop regarding Congressman Andy May of Kentucky, Senator Alben Barkley, for whom I have the highest regard on most things, tried to call off the investigation. Barkley wanted to protect a member of the club—especially one from Kentucky.

And when Bob Allen first exposed the fact that Congressman Gene Cox of Georgia had taken a $2,500 bribe in connection with a federal communications commission radio license, Sam Rayburn and other club members brought such pressure on Attorney General Biddle that he never prosecuted him—even though his own criminal division recommended it.

Or when the Justice Department finally prosecuted Ex-Congressman Curley of Boston, Rep. John McCormack, also of Boston, pulled all sorts of wires to get him off.

—POLICING CONGRESSMEN—

Again when Senators Morse or Oregon and Taylor of Idaho introduced bills requiring members of Congress to register their financial holdings and their stock-market speculations (two of their colleagues had just been exposed for speculating in the cotton market, the bill promptly was pigeonholed and never has seen the light of day since. Congress was only too glad to demand that labor unions open their financial records to the public, but not members of Congress.

Therefore, I suppose it's only to be expected that senators would rush frantically to the defense of their colleague, Congressman Robert F. Jones of Ohio, and want to ram through his confirmation to the Federal Communications Commission with scarcely five scanty hours of superficial hearings.

In contrast, Senate Republicans led by Ferguson of Michigan have held up the appointment of a new solicitor general Phil Perlman, for six long months. The solicitor general has the important duty of arguing cases before the Supreme Court. But all winter and spring the Justice Department has limped along without a solicitor general while Senator Ferguson first waited four months before even holding hearings, and then subpoenaed all Perlman's income-tax returns and the records of the firms for which he practiced law.

Meanwhile, not one gesture has been made to request the income-tax returns of Congressman Jones, or look at his list of law clients, or in any real way to scrutinize his record.

The difference is that Congressman Jones is a member of the club. Mr. Perlman isn't.

—MAULING WITNESSES—

Another thing which grips your dad is to see the unfair way senators will maul and tear to pieces some scared and helpless witness who has never before faced a senate committee or never even been in Washington. Then when a member of the club comes along for cross-examination, milk and honey simply drips from their mouths. Never do they ask an embarrassing question. Never do they look into his record. Never do they assign an FBI agent to check into his past.

A simple phone call from the Senate to the Justice Department would have revealed the fact that exactly one day after Congressman Jones was nominated to the Federal Communications Commission, the FBI had been ordered to investigate him in connection with an entirely different matter. However, when it was known that he had been nominated by the president of the United States for this important job, the Justice Department decided to withdraw the investigation—because it might prove embarrassing.

That, however, made no difference to the members of the club, someday, perhaps, they might be up for confirmation, too.

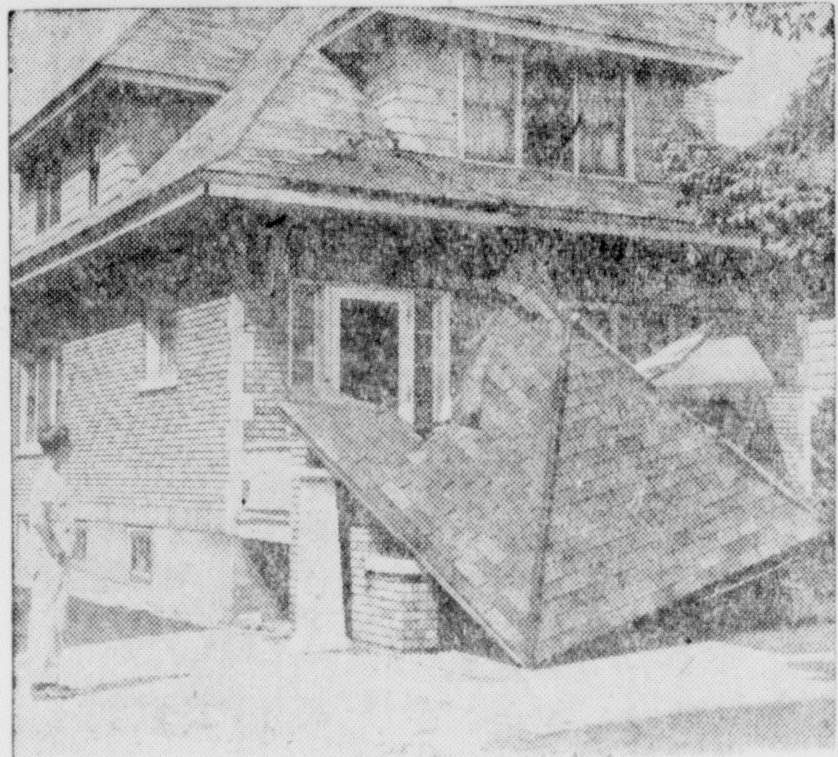

On the other hand, when the Chief of Police of Beaver Dam, Ohio, Frank A. Barber, testified that Congressman Jones was a member of the Black Legion, Senator Capehart of Indiana proceeded to berate Barber because he had arrested 80 motorists on the 4th of July week end.

Please excuse this lecture, and don't worry too much about Colonel McCormick.

Love,
From the Old Man.

The time your welcome lasts depends on how you use it.

—Clint Dunathan.

German War Bride Arrives In Rock

Independence Day is doubly significant for Jarl Raine of Rock and Miss Edith Scheick, his fiancée of Berlin, Germany.

For it was on the Fourth of July, anniversary of our independence, that Miss Scheick arrived in New York City by plane to meet Mr. Raine after a separation of several months.

Miss Scheick, who has attended Halle College for several years, left Berlin 30 hours before the arrival in New York where she met her fiancée at LaGuardia field.

She came from Templehof Airport by way of American Overseas Air Lines, stopping at Frankfurt, Germany; Amsterdam, Holland; Shannon, Eire and thence to Gander, Newfoundland in 15 hours.

From New York the two young people traveled by rail to Chicago where they were met by Mr. and Mrs. Arne Raine of Rock and other relatives of Jarl Raine. The group then motored to Rock arriving July 7.

Thursday, July 17, the couple are to be married, after which they will make their home, temporarily, in Rock.

Miss Scheick is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arno Scheick of Berlin. She has a brother Carl in Berlin in addition to other relatives.

Mrs. Charles A. Goodman Donates Miniature Logging Camp

Time has made the logging days on the Menominee river almost a thing of the past but recently memories of those days were revived when Mrs. Charles A. Goodman, widow of Charles A. Goodman, purchased from Mrs. Lena Mayer, Chester Mayer and Mrs. Hazel Arpin, widow, son and daughter of the late John Mayer, his hand carved miniature logging display and presented it to the Marinette County Historical society.

The presentation was made in the memory of Mr. Goodman of the third generation of Goodmans in the lumbering industry. Mr. Goodman was head of the Sawyer-Goodman company's interests on the Menominee river for many years. He also headed operations in Northern Michigan and Western Canada. The company's number one mill was one of the early steam mills built on the river in Marinette. It began operations in 1830 and the last logs were sawed in 1931.

Mr. Mayer spent more than 5,000 hours over a period of six years with jack knife, hammer and pliers constructing the remarkable scale model of logging operations. Several tempting offers were made for the panorama of a logging camp but Mr. Mayer turned them all down. He did not want to see his miniature leave the city.

After his death in 1946, Mrs. Mayer consented to sell the exhibit but only with the provision that it would remain in Marinette as a historical display. Mrs. Goodman has made it possible to preserve for the coming generations this rare display which sets forth in detail early logging operations.

The exhibit is now being set up in a large case being furnished by Robert A. Goodman, brother of Charles. The society will announce when the exhibit is ready for public display and where it will be placed on permanent exhibition.

John McConaughy Recommended For Ministerial Work

John McConaughy, son of Rev. and Mrs. N. U. McConaughy of Iron Mountain, was recommended for the ministry at a meeting of the Superior Presbytery in Escanaba last week. McConaughy is a student of Michigan College of Mining and Technology but will transfer to Park College at Parkville, Mo., this fall.

McConaughy was recommended by the congregation of the First Presbyterian church of Iron Mountain and was presented to the Presbytery after an examination by the committee on Christian Education, of which Rev. Stuart Werner of Stambaugh is chairman.

Final action on the recommendation will be taken at the regular meeting in September at Presbytery Point.

Other business attended at the business meeting in Escanaba included announcement of the benevolence budget—$20,000 for 4600 members of the Presbytery, as compared with $10,800 for 1947.

The New Life Movement will call for 2200 new members in the churches of Upper Michigan, their share of the 1,000,000 new members to be sought. A training school for the new life movement will be held Sept. 9-12 at Alma College for ministers and Sept. 12-14 for the church elders.

Bonnie Porter,
Francis Rogers
Wed Saturday

Among the weddings of the month of unusual interest is that of Bonnie LaVerne Porter, daughter of Mrs. W. K. Porter, of 606 South Ninth street, and Francis L. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Rogers, 537 North 20th street, which took place Saturday morning at 10:15 o'clock in the parish house of St. Joseph's church.

The vows were spoken before Rev. Father Alphonse O. F. M. Attending the couple were Miss Ruth Klabunde, of Superior, Wis., and John Patrick Rogers, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a becoming two piece suit dress of aqua crepe with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Miss Klabunde wore pale gray crepe with black accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Porter selected a brown silk print with which she wore a corsage of pink carnations, and Mrs. Rogers wore a soft pink shade with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A wedding breakfast for twenty-four guests was served at the Dells. The tiered wedding cake, tapers in crystal holders and summer flowers in low crystal bowls formed the table decorations.

Home In Escanaba

The couple left on a wedding trip to an unannounced destination and after their return, will live at 606 South Ninth street. The bride has been librarian at Escanaba Junior high school and Mr. Rogers is a member of the sales staff of Gust Asps.

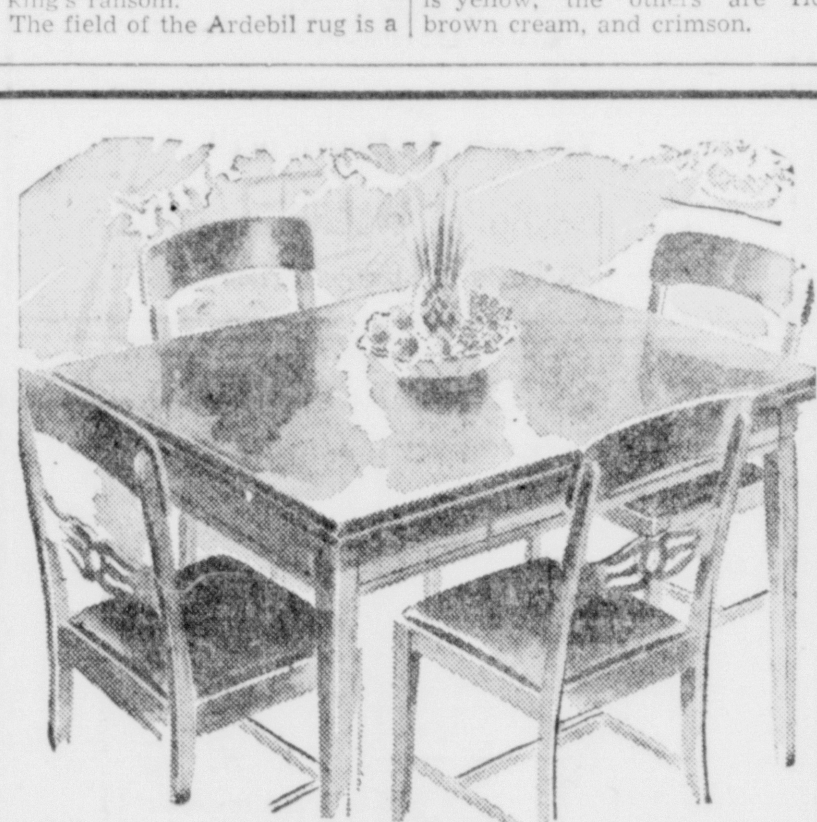

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Pat Thompson of Sidnaw, Mich., and Miss Klabunde, of Superior.

Luncheon At Golf
Club Wednesday

A one o'clock luncheon, with bridge and golf following it, will be served at the Escanaba Golf club Wednesday afternoon. Luncheon reservations must be made by calling the club house not later than Tuesday noon. Mrs. Stack Smith is chairman of the committee for the day, assisted by Mrs. H. J. Defnet, Mrs. H. J. Ehler, Mrs. A. J. Goulais, Mrs. J. T. Jones, Mrs. George Lindenthal and Miss Lucille Gessner.

WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS RUG
The most famous rug in the world is the Ardebil rug now in the South Kensington Museum in London according to the Oriental Rug Institute. Hand woven in the Orient, it contains 32,000,000 hand-tufted knots, or 530 knots to the square inch.

Originally made in 1538 during the reign of Tamasp I for the Ardebil mosque, the rug through the years graced the floors of palaces and castles in many lands and now, despite its age, is worth a king's ransom.

Miss Josephine
Depotsie Wed to
Wallace A. Curran

Josephine Marie Depotsie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Depotsie of Carney became the bride of Wallace A. Curran, son of Mrs. Mary Curran, 219 North 12th street, at a nine o'clock mass Saturday morning at St. Patrick's church with Rev. Thomas Ruppe officiating. St. Patrick's choir sang the music of the mass.

The attendants were Belle Curran, maid of honor; Geraldine Erickson, bridesmaid; Robert Sloan, best man and Edward Arts, usher.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with lace inserts, a sweetheart neckline, leg o'mutton sleeves which tapered to points over the wrist and a court train. Her finger tip veil was edged with lace and held in place with a wreath of pearls. A gold locket and a bouquet of pink roses complemented her costume.

Her maid of honor wore a gown of aqua marquisette with a matching headpiece while Miss Erickson wore a pink marquisette gown with matching headpiece. They carried bouquets of garden flowers. The groom's mother wore black with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Wedding Breakfast
Breakfast for the bridal party was served at the home of the bridegroom with a reception for fifty guests in the afternoon. The bride is employed by the S. S. Kresge Co., and the groom by the Liggett and Myers Tobacco Co.

After a motor trip to Wisconsin they will make their home in Escanaba.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Poquette and Mr. and Mrs. Henry LeBeau of Carney and Joseph Depotsie and son of Milwaukee.

Sr. Emma Racine Finds Escanaba Great After Absence Of 51 Years

Escanaba is bringing back glorious childhood memories to one who has always loved the city but has not seen it in 51 years.

When Sister Emma Racine arrived here a few days ago from Sudbury, Ont., with her companion Sister Fagnan, it was the first time she had returned to the scenes of her childhood since she left in 1896.

Following her exodus from Michigan Sister Racine lived with a brother in Concord, Mass., and shortly thereafter entered the Order of the Gray Nuns of Montreal. Her duties took her to the far-flung parts of Canada. Now she has taken a week out from her responsibilities with the orphans in Sudbury to visit relatives and friends in Escanaba.

She is a guest of Leonard Racine of 808 Second avenue south. His father was her brother and lived almost in the same place where she is visiting.

Coming back after 51 years held many surprises for the sister. She had expected modernization and growth, but not to such a great extent. Driving along Lake Shore, Sister Racine could recognize only the Stack residence and a few others on the opposite side of the street.

The area where the municipal park is now located was just a pile of sand leading to the waters-edge. As a child Emma Racine had played there with her friends, swimming, building sand huts and what not.

Early in her childhood she attended St. Joseph School and watched the construction of St. Ann church and school. When Father Martel wasn't looking she and her companions played in the foundations. In 1896 along with Adrienne Tournant, Mrs. Rebecca Charlebois, Marie Boudreau, Mrs. Sylvia Villeneuve, Mrs. Albert Houle Auger, Mrs. Angeline Deslites Lallie and Mrs. Flora Elie Morin, she graduated from St. Ann school.

As Sister was being interviewed she looked out from the Leonard Racine home and said, "You know, when I left, from here out, Escanaba was woods."

Main street as Sister recalls, was made of logs covered with tar; and the others, Charlotte, Hale, Sarah, were sand. About 1500 people inhabited the city. Her father's blacksmith shop was in the park across from the House of Ludington.

Whenever a funeral or wedding took place the Main stables, where Rubens ambulance office now is, were busy. The finest chariot and the most beautiful horses were brought out for important callers and other events. Other times Sister attended masquerade balls in the upstairs.

Sister Racine especially remembers the Indians (often a few drunks in the wind) crossing the lake in their sail-driven canoes and coming to town for brightly-colored clothing and to frequent the saloons which were about a block apart or closer. No houses or industries were found very far out. The Stephenson Lumber Company had a dock and plant where the municipal dock has been constructed.

Sidewalks were unheard of until a few years before Sister left. A family, whose name she has forgotten, built a clay walk around their house which was near the courthouse. (She says it is one of the few buildings still recognizable to her). This walk evidently attracted considerable attention for Sister recalls going there with her friends and "walking and walking" over it.

Sister Racine came to Escanaba when she was five years old and most of her memorable childhood was spent here. Her family had a log cabin when their son Oscar drowned in a log-drive on the Escanaba River, the first day he worked as driver. Because it was two months before the body was recovered, the family came to Escanaba from Barhamy, Quebec. They remained until John Racine, the father passed away.

On her trip to Escanaba Sister envisioned many happy reunions but was skeptical of her English. When she was a young sister her duties carried her into the French sections of Canada, and for 30 years she did not speak English. She manages all right however. A few added manual explanations and a few French expressions do not dim her happiness nor stories of her childhood.

A hundred and one things come back to her—the old eight steps leading to the communion rail at St. Ann church with its then square sanctuary, the burying grounds out where the Chatfield foundry now stands, The Indian lady who lived next door to them and for whom she took in the washing when storms came up, and the doctors, Choquette and Thibault—the old city hall and its personnel, and landmarks such as the Presbyterian and Episcopalian churches.

Sister leaves Monday to return to the orphanage and the 57 youngsters who are vacationing while she is here. Her two brothers, Omer in Montreal and Father Charles Edward in Rigaud, Quebec, will no doubt receive long letters from her.

U. P. CATHOLICS TOTAL 84,000

An increase of 5,162 in the membership of the Roman Catholic diocese of Marquette during 1946, raising its Catholic population to 84,599, was reported today by the Northern Michigan edition of Our Sunday Visitor, official diocesan newspaper.

Our Sunday Visitor set the total population—Catholic and non-Catholic—of the area covered by the Marquette diocese at 265,221. The count of 84,599 Catholics in the diocese in 1946 compares with 79,437 in 1945.

Quoting a general summary of the diocese prepared by publishers of the annual Official Catholic Directory, the church publication reported 351 conversions during 1946, compared with 210 in 1945. The conversions "and the 1,433 marriages entered into represent an addition to the church of the Peninsula of some 800 souls," it disclosed.

Other gains reported by the diocesan organ include an increase in missions from 47 to 49, of stations from 18 to 21, and general hospitals conducted by the diocese from four to five.

5,981 In Schools
A total of 14,829 youths were under Catholic instruction in 1946 compared with 13,751 in 1945. Parochial schools had an enrollment of 5,981. In 1946 there were 2,931 baptisms, compared with 2,589, and 1,433 marriages, compared with 783 in 1945.

In its 86 parishes, the diocese last year had 146 priests, 85 resident pastors and one-on-resident, 304 sisters, four brothers and 72 seminarians.

In addition to five hospitals, with a bed capacity of 348 and a record of 10,483 patients treated in 1946, the diocese maintained a school for nurses with 45 students, and two orphanages with 205 dependent children.

For the United States, Hawaii and Alaska, the paper reported 25,268,173 Catholics, an increase of 866,049 over 1945.

FIRST TIME IN 51 YEARS—Sister Emma Racine (back row, left) and her companion Sister Fagnan of Sudbury, Ont., visit with members of the class of 1896 of St. Ann school. Sister Emma Racine left Escanaba at the age of 16 when her father died and lived in Concord, Mass., until she entered the Order of the Gray Nuns of Montreal. She has not been back here since leaving. In the front row, left to right, are Mrs. P. H. Connell, Mrs. Sylvia Villeneuve, Miss Marie Boudreau, and Mrs. Blanche LaPorte. Left to right in back are Sister Emma Racine, Mrs. Eugene Auger, Mrs. Nels Morin, Adrienne Tournant, Mrs. Rebecca Charlebois and Sister Florina Fagnan.

Bass Leaders

With the emphasis shifting to the "big waters" for fishing it is fitting that the new leaders entered in the Daily Press Fishing Contest in the bass classes, Osborne V. Peterson a former Escanaban who now makes his home at 619 East 39th Ave., Gary, Ind., landed a 3½ pound smallmouth black bass, 18 inches long, while still fishing with worms in the Ford River to take over the leadership in the class. He was fishing with Louis Clapock of Crown Point, Ind., and Lloyd B. Peterson of Gary.

Another visitor, Fred Harcourt, 3418 Clarence Ave., Berwyn, Ill., caught a 5½ pound largemouth black bass that takes its class lead while fishing in MacDonald Lake. The fish measured 20 inches in length and 13¼ inches in girth and was caught on a crazy crawler bait.

Other sizeable entries include an 8 pound 11 ounce, 30 inch rainbow trout, compared with 2,589, and 1,433 marriages, compared with 783 in 1945.

Bass Leaders

With the emphasis shifting to the "big waters" for fishing it is fitting that the new leaders entered in the Daily Press Fishing Contest in the bass classes, Osborne V. Peterson a former Escanaban who now makes his home at 619 East 39th Ave., Gary, Ind., landed a 3½ pound smallmouth black bass, 18 inches long, while still fishing with worms in the Ford River to take over the leadership in the class. He was fishing with Louis Clapock of Crown Point, Ind., and Lloyd B. Peterson of Gary.

Another visitor, Fred Harcourt, 3418 Clarence Ave., Berwyn, Ill., caught a 5½ pound largemouth black bass that takes its class lead while fishing in MacDonald Lake. The fish measured 20 inches in length and 13¼ inches in girth and was caught on a crazy crawler bait.

Other sizeable entries include an 8 pound 11 ounce, 30 inch rainbow trout, compared with 2,589, and 1,433 marriages, compared with 783 in 1945.

In its 86 parishes, the diocese last year had 146 priests, 85 resident pastors and one-on-resident, 304 sisters, four brothers and 72 seminarians.

In addition to five hospitals, with a bed capacity of 348 and a record of 10,483 patients treated in 1946, the diocese maintained a school for nurses with 45 students, and two orphanages with 205 dependent children.

For the United States, Hawaii and Alaska, the paper reported 25,268,173 Catholics, an increase of 866,049 over 1945.

Other gains reported by the diocesan organ include an increase in missions from 47 to 49, of stations from 18 to 21, and general hospitals conducted by the diocese from four to five.

A total of 14,829 youths were under Catholic instruction in 1946 compared with 13,751 in 1945. Parochial schools had an enrollment of 5,981. In 1946 there were 2,931 baptisms, compared with 2,589, and 1,433 marriages, compared with 783 in 1945.

KEEP INSURED, VETERANS TOLD

Can Reinstate Policies Without Examination Before Aug. 1

BY GEORGE TUCKER

New York, July 12 (AP)—Time is running out for war veterans who hope to reinstate their lapsed government insurance without a physical examination.

They have until August 1, and after that they will be subject to the same physical requirements as ordinary policy buyers.

A high government official has said unofficially that he does not believe a further extension will be granted.

At the same time, many veterans have not yet been officially notified that their war insurance has lapsed. It is believed in veterans circles that protests from enough of these would guarantee a further extension.

Throwing Away Security
Nearly 10,000,000 government policies are in danger of going by the boards unless former service men apply for reinstatement.

Private insurance companies and service organizations everywhere are intensifying their efforts to make former G. I.'s realize what they are throwing away.

Press, radio, and national magazines have joined in the campaign, and A. E. Patterson, president of Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, reported recently that 14,440 veterans in New Mexico, Colorado, Utah, and Wyoming in the last four months

"Killing a big buck gives a hunter something to be proud of, to brag about," Campbell says. "A hunter likes to display a handsome head and many-pronged rack, and tell how big the buck was on the hoof."

Further, he says that every hunter, if he spots two bucks at once will invariably fire at the larger and rejoices exceedingly over the size of his kill.

Some experienced hunters are not so sure that what is needed is a bigger buck. They point out that the larger the animal, the harder the task of dragging it out of the woods to a road for transportation home. A number of genetics scientists have expressed a fear that the experiment might fail miserably.

Duck Cut Coming
Fish and Wildlife Service recommendations for the duck hunting season were sent out during the week to state game commissions. The agency will await the reactions from the states before finally determining the hunting dates.

Albert M. Day, director of the service, recently indicated that both the season and bag limit may be reduced—the season to 30 days and the bag limit to five ducks per day.

Last year's reductions were from 60 to 45 days and from 10 to seven ducks per day. Hunting license sales increased 20 per cent to a new peak of 9,354,313. Meanwhile the waterfowl population dropped, for the third successive year, to 54,600,000 a drop of 26,000,000 from the previous year's figure.

About 95 per cent of all new locomotives being ordered for American railroads are reported to be Diesel-electric.

In 1946 man-made rubber accounted for around 60 per cent of total used.

had reinstated more than $89,200,000 of National Service Life Insurance.

Many are asking why private insurance companies are interested in saving G. I. insurance, when selling insurance is their special business.

Their experience after the first world war indicates that it is good business. They feel that veterans insurance then gave the country a real awareness of the value of insurance, and as a result private insurance companies more than doubled their business in the five years between 1920 and 1925.

The sale during wartime of $142 billion of National Service Life Insurance was the second greatest government-sponsored mass-security program in history, topped only by the social security program, and its loss through lapsed policies would amount to the destruction of a tremendous national resource, government and private insurance company leaders believe.

Process Simple
This wide coverage, if saved, would cushion at least half the country's families against misfortune and poverty, they say.

What must a veteran do to reinstate his insurance? He walks to the nearest service organization of veterans office and asks for a reinstatement form. They will fill it out for him. All he does is sign it and pay the equivalent of two months' premiums. No physical examination is necessary. No papers have to be notarized.

The payment covers the month in which the policy lapsed, plus the first full month of reinstatement. Thereafter the veteran is urged to make all payments on due date whether he received a payment notice or not.

WALLS and CEILINGS of Lifetime Beauty

Armstrong's Veos Wall Tile Is PORCELAIN ON STEEL

The genuine porcelain of Armstrong's Veos Wall Tile is fused at high temperatures to a tempered 20-gauge steel base. This is the same type of durable finish used on bathtubs and sinks. Colors will not fade or wear off, and the mirror-smooth surface will not crack, warp, or craze.

Armstrong's Veos Wall Tile is ideal for remodeling kitchens and bathrooms because no expensive preparation of the wall surface is required. A quick cleaning with a damp cloth keeps this surface gleaming.

THE MOST EAGERLY-AWAITED PICTURE OF THE YEAR!

PICTURESQUE FAYETTE—Miss Judy Shaw of Escanaba stands framed in one of the windows of the old stone buildings that have attracted the interest of thousands of visitors to picturesque Fayette on the Garden Peninsula. One of Delta county's earliest settlements, and the site of its first major industry—the Fayette Furnace company—Fayette is now a quiet little fishing village.

ONCE A BOOM TOWN—The roadway that eighty years ago was the center of a community of more than 1,000 persons is now deserted except for tourists, fishermen and visitors who follow the road leading to the "island" and to Snail Shell Harbor. To the left is the big boarding house, and beyond it some of the old Furnace company houses. On the right is the old fire hall, community center and post office building, although the post office has since been moved.

WE FORGET TOO QUICKLY

Editor,
Daily Press,
Escanaba, Mich.

I have been deeply moved by the mid-morning program, heard over WDBC, sponsored by Rev. James Ward, Ingrid Bergman's outstanding portrayal of the courageous Dutch mother, gave us a very clear picture of the post-war needs of those people in the flooded land of the dykes and Antwerp.

Then came the heartaches of the surgeon in China, operating over a period of months, even on a little girl, without ether. Today we heard the true story of the effect of race-prejudice, as experienced by an American Japanese father, who, although his son died in the service of our country, suffered the loss of all he possessed, including his home. The pastor in this story said: "Hate springs up quickly, but it is slow to die." All of which made me feel the more surely, that everything we can do to ease the suffering, and supply the needs of the world, is all too little at best. I have been criticized and scoffed at for being a "softie"—I have been told that "those darn foreigners just work you for all they can get." Well, I've met a few colossal spongers right in America!

I can't quite forget that dear old seventy-year old lady near Coldwater, England, "Mother" Goldwyn. Her lovely thatched cottage was home to my son and his buddies while waiting for "D." Day. They spent many a night there, in a good bed, warmed by her love and tea while she dozed them for colds. After "D" Day her home, called "Serenity" was blasted by a robot and she lost everything including the roses and forget-me-nots. Not bordered walks. I'm sure Mother Goldwyn did not expect or even dream of material reward for her goodness. But those GI's will never forget, and she shall receive her boxes as long as we are able to send them.

Then, near Arcourte, France, lives Mme. Jacqueline Her Lee, a French peasant, widowed by war and keeping her family of five together. When cold came early that winter of the drive home to Germany, she gave long hours to helping the boys in Bill's outfit when the flood of the Marne came in the night and left the men cooked and ill. She filled her little house with clotheslines and they hugged her fire clad only in damp overalls, while she dried their heavy clothes and shared her meagre supply of coffee and cocoa. We shall never forget her, and no one can tell me that she gave to get, or had any thought of reward. As long as we can send

Vance Hiney Named School Principal

Negaunee, Mich. — G. Vance Hiney, teacher in the Negaunee public school system 20 years, has been appointed principal of the Central grade school by the board of education and will assume his new duties with the opening of school in September.

Since 1926 Hiney has taught continuously in the city's junior and senior high schools, except for one year in which he was given a leave of absence to complete work toward his A. B. degree. He was instructor in mathematics and history in the junior high school until 1934, at which time he was transferred to the high school where he has taught history and government and served as adviser of the senior class.

the still hard to get articles, and the yard goods to be made into clothing for Yvette, Jinette, little Jacqueline, Jeanne and the mother, the boxes shall go to Arcourte.

That pastor said, "Hate springs up quickly but it is slow to die." Don't you think generosity and willingness to give spring up quickly during war hysteria and the many drives for funds, and then all too soon it is all forgotten; the people of the world and their needs are also forgotten. The call for help is still so pitiful in so many places!

RAIL HEARINGS WILL BE HELD

Transportation Service In U. P. Will Be Studied

Charges that railroad transportation facilities and services in the Upper Peninsula are inadequate will be investigated by the Michigan public service commission during public hearings in Marquette Tuesday, July 15, and in Houghton, Thursday, July 17.

The Marquette hearing will be conducted in the city hall, beginning at 10 a. m., when all interested persons will be heard by the commission. The Houghton session will start at 9 a. m. in the court house.

Notice of the public hearing has been served by the commission on the four affected railroads: Chicago & North Western; Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific; Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic; and the Mineral Range.

Representations have been made, the commission says in its order, that transportation facilities and service in the Upper Peninsula "are wholly inadequate to satisfy and fulfill the needs of the public."

List Complaints Against Roads

Those "representations" the commission lists as follows:

1. Passenger trains are often delayed by such practices as using passenger engines to do odd switching jobs while on a passenger run.

2. Trains are often delayed by taking freight cars onto the passenger trains.

3. Passenger coaches are drafty, dirty and uncomfortable.

4. The schedules of passenger trains are not arranged with a view to the needs and convenience of the public.

5. The running time of the Copper Country Limited on its run from Chicago, Ill., to Calumet, Mich., is unreasonably long.

6. That neither the operations of the Chippewa nor any other passenger train gives through daylight service between Chicago, Ill., and Calumet, Houghton and Hancock, Mich.

7. That neither the Chicago & North Western Railway company with its "400" nor the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific Railroad company with its "Chippewa" renders an adequate service between Marquette, Mich., and Milwaukee, Wis., and points south thereof.

8. No railroad gives direct sleeper service between Marquette, Mich., and Chicago, Ill., or between Marquette, Mich., and Detroit, Mich.

DAMP HAY IS FIRE HAZARD

Farmers Advised to Keep Moisture Content Below 20 %

Farmers were reminded yesterday by Joseph Heirman, county agricultural agent, that if hay goes into the barn with a moisture content of much over 20 percent there is danger of heating in the mow.

The warning is timely because the haying season is now on in full force. Even small amounts of damp hay, if it is all in one spot, may cause heating in a limited area. It is this spot heating which is often difficult to detect by usual signs and sometimes results in a fire.

All hay mows should be watched for signs of heating for six to eight weeks after putting the hay in. The usual indications are dampness on top of the hay and a strong odor if the heating is quite extensive or near the surface.

An easy way to test the hay for heating is to construct a hay probe thermometer. This instrument can be used every year if properly cared for. The testing device is made from a 1/2-inch pipe with a sharpened hardwood plug at one end to facilitate getting the pipe driven into the hay. The pipe should be at least 6 feet long and 8 feet would still be better. Six holes 1/4-inch size are drilled into the pipe just above the wooden plug. This is to leave the heat into the pipe where the thermometer is placed. The thermometer is lowered into the pipe by means of a string tied to the end.

The thermometer should be left in place 10 to 15 minutes and quickly withdrawn to get an accurate reading. If the temperature rises to 140 degrees F., further readings should be taken. If it goes to 160 degrees F., readings should be taken several times during the day. If the temperature reaches 180 degrees F. call the fire department before moving hay as it may burst into flames upon coming in contact with the air.

Losses from spontaneous combustion amount to a great deal each year. In 1945, insurance companies paid out $141,000 in Michigan. Most of the fires were caused by overheated hay.

Carnival Dancer Nabbed For Theft

Iron Mountain, Mich. — Betty Howard, 21, dancer in the girl revue of the World of Pleasure carnival currently showing here, paid a fine of $25 and costs of $5.15 today in municipal court after she admitted to Reno Romagnoli, chief of police, that she stole an Elgin watch sometime last night from Adolf Hein, 312 East Brown.

According to Chief Romagnoli, who arrested the girl this morning after she was charged with the theft by Hein, Miss Howard rented a room at 312 East Brown on Tuesday night. She told Romagnoli that when Hein was absent, last night, she took the watch from a dresser in his bedroom.

OPEN MONDAY, JULY 21

To the People of the 11th Congressional District

Petitions have been filed with the Secretary of State on behalf of

of Alpena for the office of Representative in Congress from the 11th Congressional District to be voted for in the Primary Election to be held on July 29, 1947.

Mr. Bishop is now serving his 7th term in the Michigan State Senate. He has been signally honored by his district in not having any opposition in either Primary or General elections during the last four terms.

During his period of service in the State Senate he has been either Chairman of, or a member of its most important Committees. Today he is Chairman of the powerful Finance and Appropriations Committee of the Senate, as well as Vice-Chairman of the Committee on Highways, Vice-Chairman of the Committee on Senate Business, and a member of the important committee on Interstate Cooperation. Not alone has he had many years of experience in State Government, but previously had eleven years experience in local or city government. Such experience in Government on both local and state level make him well qualified to perform and assume the duties of Representative in Congress.

In addition to the training he has received in the political field, he has had an extensive business career, first as a clerk in a general store for five years, then as an employee of a National Bank for twenty years in all banking positions from Clerk to Cashier.

During his early business career he also developed an insurance business from scratch, which he still operates. Following his resignation from the bank he entered the commercial fishing business and operated for years a fleet of tugs on the Great Lakes giving him an intimate knowledge of that industry. Some years ago he entered the Retail Coal business and is now operating a successful business under the name of the Bishop Coal Company. He is past President of the Michigan Retail Coal Dealers' Association, and is still one of its Board of Directors. He also served for a number of years as a Director of the American Retail Coal Dealers' Association.

He is a life long resident of Northern Michigan having been born in the City of Alpena, and has long been active in the civic, political and business affairs of this section of the state. He has been active in Boys' Work, is past President and present Director of the Alpena Boys' Club.

Since he became a member of the Michigan State Senate he has devoted much time and effort to developing and promoting the Tourist and Resort industry of Northern Michigan having annually, during the last thirteen years, secured appropriations for the support and development of this industry. He drafted the Act which created the Michigan Tourist Council.

He has been especially active in support of Veterans' measures, being the first to introduce a bill creating a Reserve Fund for disabled veterans, their widows and dependents.

A very important measure introduced by him, and which readily received the approval of all his colleagues, was a bill to prevent over-drafts by all state Boards, Commissions, Agencies and Departments.

It is well known by the County Road Commissioners of Northern Michigan that he has always been active in promoting legislation beneficial to the development of our road system. His interest in the promotion of education, both primary and higher forms, is well known.

His record of accomplishment in political, civic and business activities indicate that he is well qualified to cope with the fiscal, tax and other problems now facing our government which must be solved in the next session of Congress. He solicits your careful consideration of his candidacy for the office and will appreciate your support in the Primary Election, July 29, 1947.

MOBILE PHONE PLANNED HERE

Bell Schedules Telephone Service To And From Autos In 1948

Telephone service to and from automobiles is slated to be introduced at Escanaba sometime next year, George A. Marcouiller, manager here for the Michigan Bell Telephone company, said yesterday.

Just when in 1948 mobile radio-telephone service will be inaugurated here depends upon the availability of equipment, Marcouiller said.

"But it is definite that Michigan Bell will construct a transmitting and receiving station at Escanaba to operate on the 30-44 megacycle band," Marcouiller stated.

The station at first will be used to provide service to autos, trucks, ships, and other mobile units within a radius of 20 miles of Escanaba.

Eventually, however, the Escanaba installation will be a link in a nationwide network serving all important stations.

Mobile service was introduced in Michigan last September at Detroit. Approximately 75 mobile units are equipped with "autophones" at Detroit now, but there are 900 applications for service.

Two more radio channels are scheduled to go into service there by fall.

Sooner This Fall
The first mobile radiotelephone installation in the Upper Peninsula (the second in the state), will be at Sault Ste. Marie. This station is expected to be operating also by fall.

The Sault Ste. Marie station will serve the many ships which pass through the canal as well as mobile units operating on nearby streets and highways.

Other Michigan cities to receive mobile stations this year are Lansing, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Port Huron, Flint, Saginaw, and Bay City.

Engineering studies are under way to determine the need for additional Upper Peninsula mobile radiotelephone installations and for stations at Ann Arbor, Pontiac, and Mt. Clemens.

Mobile service is an extension of regular land telephone service, via very-high-frequency radio, to vehicles equipped with suitable sending and receiving apparatus.

It enables occupants of such vehicles to make and receive telephone calls to and from any Bell system or connecting telephone whether local, long-distance, overseas, ship-to-shore, or to mobile unit telephones. It operates on FM (frequency modulation) radio principles.

How It Works
Conversations travel part way by radio, part way by telephone line.

For example, a man at his desk in Escanaba who wishes to call someone in a car, lifts the receiver of his telephone and asks for the "mobile service operator." He then gives the telephone number of the vehicle.

The operator routes the call by telephone line to a 250-watt transmitter. Radio waves carry the telephone message to the mobile units.

Selective ringing equipment in each mobile unit permits only the called car to receive the signal for its particular number. A bell rings momentarily and an amber light flashes on the instrument relayed by telephone line to the mobile service operator's switchboard and thence by telephone line back to the caller at his desk.

Perfecting Equipment
Equipment in the vehicles consists of a receiver, transmitter, antenna, selective signaling device, instrument holder, and handset.

The instrument is mounted under the dashboard in a specially designed holder within easy reach of the driver. Transmitting and receiving equipment is located in the trunk of a passenger car and in a water-proof, metal box on a truck or other mobile unit.

The 18-inch antenna which is used for both receiving and transmitting is mounted on the highest, unobstructed portion of the vehicle. The signaling bell and light are located on the holder as is the switch to turn the equipment on and off.

As a rule, the above equipment is furnished by the telephone company. The subscriber supplies the power to operate the apparatus which requires 6 to 12 volts, D. C. current.

At present, the vehicle must be furnished with over-size battery and generator. Bell System engineers, however, are working to perfect a smaller model mobile telephone requiring less of a battery drain. When this is done, special batteries and generators will be no longer be needed.

Types of Service
Three classes of mobile radio-telephone service are offered:

(1) A general, two-way service between any regular telephone and any mobile unit, or between any two mobile units, with a three-minute talking period.

(2) A two-way dispatch service between a designated dispatching office telephone and designated mobile units, with a one-minute initial talking period.

(3) A one-way, non-talking signaling service to designated mobile units to notify the driver to comply with prearranged instructions such as calling his office from the nearest public telephone.

"The service is not expected to see much usage by individuals for their own personal purposes," Marcouiller said. "The telephone is still the most economical form of communication and adequately serves for general, personal needs."

At least at first, business firms will be the principal subscribers. The 75 sets now in use in Detroit include, ambulances, cartage companies, construction engineers, taxis, newspaper press cars, public utility emergency repair trucks, law enforcement agencies, doctors, delivery trucks, fire and other city departments, and many others.

Lobsters are more closely related to spiders than to fish.

Looks that stay looked at

- and Ability to match

GIVE yourself five seconds, and you know that here's car styling as up to the minute as the time of day.

Spend a few fast minutes to see why — and you spot both smartness right from tomorrow's designing boards and everything that should go with it.

Measure the reach and spread of that Buick bonnet, brim-filled with Fireball power.

Sweep your glance over the broad beam that spells room, the stretch that means easy-riding wheelbase, the size that tells of enough roadweight to end jounce and jitter.

Here, you tell yourself, is something to see. Here are looks to hold the eye for seasons to come — and lively, durable ability to match:

... Rich abundance of smooth, hushed Fireball horsepower from a straight-eight kept young and lively by Accurite cylinder finish.

... Tireless coil springing on all four wheels, leveling all roads to boulevard smoothness.

... Riding from two steady tons of roadweight — ease of handling from balance to draw a ballet dancer's envy. Soft, roomy cushions seating three apiece — finish that's the very last word in richness and taste.

Yes, it takes no time at all to show that you and Buick belong together, should go together steady — so what's holding you back?

After all, we can't do much about getting one to you till you make your wishes plain. You do that simply by placing your order — which will get equal consideration whether or not you have a car to trade.

TUCK AWAY PLENTY! Roomy luggage compartments hold plenty — and high-lifting lids make it easy to get at any piece

Stories Of Michigan

The Expensive Bonfire

John Palmer opened the rough-hewn door of his frame house, and swung his traveling sack inward. His wife caught sight of him, and ran forward in greeting, and his two young sons grasped at his deerskin trousers. "Did you get a good price for the skins?" his wife asked excitedly as soon as John had laid his fur cap aside, and laughed greetings to his family, bouncing the boys on his knees and embracing his wife.

"Fine," John hesitated. "Yes, a fine price—only I had to take half my pay in 'shin plaster'—The dealer told me it's better than Ohio paper. Some man—a Lewis Goddard—is back of them, whoever or wherever he is."

Mrs. Palmer's face fell in distress. "Paper money? Oh, John, why didn't you take maple sugar or even shingles?"

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Braun were Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Clough, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Timmons and Miss Doris Clough all of Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Lena Neff of Newberry and Miss Bernadine Neff of Detroit were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Skinner on Monday evening.

John laughed. "Well, for one thing, I got a lot better price by taking paper money—after all, it's somebody's note, and it's bound to be worth something. And about the shingles—you know better than that, Ann. They're all right for small change, the way we use them around here, but I would have had to hire a double team to haul my share home." He fingered the roll of paper bills which he'd taken out of the traveling sack—"I'll just hang on to these, honey—they'll be worth more than your maple sugar, you wait and see"

It was early spring in 1817, and as the Michigan summer came and went, John Palmer spent many evenings looking over his "shin plaster" as everybody of the day called the numerous private notes which had begun to circulate and pass as money. "Can't be worth any less than Ohio paper," he would remark jovially. "That went down lower than ever last week . . . trouble is, everybody's getting such a big collection of these Goddard notes, they don't want to take any more. Nobody knows exactly who this Goddard is—Jesse Wilkins said he's aiming to take a trip up around where I sold the furs, and he'll bring back information so we know just how worthwhile this money is."

"Look at what the neighbor Browns gave me for six dozen of eggs today," his wife, Ann said. She displayed the nest of three small wooden bowls. "Lots of people are using them for exchange—this is the first time I've gotten any."

"At least you've got something there," John Palmer said, fingering the wooden dishes thoughtfully.

Jess Wilkins left on his trip in late September. In middle October John Palmer tried to exchange his notes for shoes and for flour, and both merchants refused him. He stood in the clearing in the middle of the town, where residents gathered to talk, or doze, or watch the activities of the small group of men around him. "I wish Jess would come back," he said.

He pulled a handful of notes from his pocket, and gazed at them in disgust. "Fake money! Worthless stuff!" Some of the men dug handfuls of notes from their own pockets, and began to jeer, and wave the stuff in the air disdainfully. "Where'd it come from, anyway?" One man in particular was loud and scornful, and he had a bigger pile of the paper money than anyone else. He was a stranger to John Palmer, but he wore wellmade outdoor clothes, and spoke in loud, firm tones. "Know what I think about all this?" He frowned around at the growing group of men. "I think this junk isn't worth the paper it's written on—maybe there isn't even any Lewis Goddard!"

He stuffed the money into his pockets, bent over, and drew a armful of leaves into a great pile in the center of the clearing, then he touched a spark to the pile. "Watch!" he shouted gleefully. He pulled the notes out, and flung them on the roaring fire, digging into his pockets until he had found—and destroyed—every hated piece of paper. The action was contagious. First one, then another, of the citizens threw the paper notes into the flames, in a grand gesture of contempt, shouting and hooting.

Jess Wilkins came riding into the town just as the stranger jumped on his own horse. The stranger joked with some of the men, swung about for a minute, then cantered off with a comradely farewell wave. Jess was still looking after the disappearing horse when John Palmer strode up to him. "We know what you must have found out," John said. "We've just gotten rid of that Goddard money we got stuck with—boy, what a feeling of relief that is, to have the worthless stuff completely gone!"

Jess Wilkins looked at his friend in bewilderment. "The money's all right. Goddard is good for his notes, at least to a certain extent." He looked in the dark distance where the stranger had gone—"What I want to know," he said thoughtfully, "is what was he doing here? That fellow was Lewis Goddard himself!"

Sgt. Chas. Rivers Home From Germany

After five years of service in the U. S. Army, three of which were spent overseas, Sgt. Charles Rivers has arrived from Germany and is now home on terminal leave. He will receive his discharge on August 12 from Camp Kilmer, N. J.

Sgt. Rivers was with the Ninth Armored division, the first to cross the Rhine, and saw action in four major battles: Northern and Central Europe, Ardennes and Alsace campaigns. He received a presidential citation for the Battle of Bastogne.

Upon the conclusion of the war he served 18 months with the 94th constabulary squadron in Germany.

H. McMILLAN PASSES AWAY

Former Resident & Bank Cashier Dies Saturday In Green Bay

Munising — Herbert H. McMILLAN, former Munising resident and first cashier of the local People's State Bank when it was organized in 1910, died in Green Bay, Wis., early Saturday morning. He had resided in South Haven, Mich., since leaving Munising and had visited friends here July 4.

He is survived by one son, Howard, of Washington, D. C. and one daughter, Margaret, now married and with whom he had been living in South Haven. His wife preceded him in death by a number of years.

Mr. McMILLAN was cashier of the People's State bank here from 1910, when it was first organized, until 1936 when he retired. Prior to his employment at the State Bank, he had been cashier and organizer of a bank at Gwinn, Mich. from 1908 until 1910. He had also worked for a short time at the First National Bank here. Mr. McMILLAN left Munising about 1942.

The body will arrive in Munising at the Beaulieu funeral home today. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

FINED — Jack Steffanski, Munising, was arraigned in Justice court yesterday and fined $5 and costs of $3.35 for illegal parking in a taxi stand zone. Judge John A. Vizona imposed the fine.

Chief of Police Urban Thombley reported that Steffanski refused to move his automobile from the taxi zone when told to do so by one of the police patrolmen and was then issued a summons to appear in justice court.

NOT AT MEET

Munising — The Rev. Frederick Steen president of the local Ministerial Association is not representing Munising at the planning session for the second annual Upper Peninsula conference for Christian Workers being held at Michigan, July 11 and 12.

Rev. Steen said he had been requested to do so, but had turned down the request as he was unable to attend the meetings. He did not state who is representing the community.

BIRTHS

Munising — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Motte announce the birth of a son, born July 8 in the Munising hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Oas are the parents of a daughter born July 9 in St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette. The baby has been named, Billie Louise.

Fifty Girls Are Enjoying Camp At Trailer Park

Outdoor cookery with treats such as "angels on horseback," "squaw corn," and "apple yum yum," were just part of a Girl Scout's daily routine at Trailer Park, where nearly 50 Manistique girls enjoyed day camp this week. Opening Tuesday morning under the direction of Miss Ragnhild Johnson, of Negaunee, trained camp supervisor, the sessions continued through Friday, from 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily. Adult leaders and senior service Scouts assisted as unit directors. The camp was divided into three units, namely, the Birds, Tulips, and Daisies. Each girl was given a nick-name as a camp name, and displayed it on her twig name pin, one of the handicraft projects. Adult leaders assisting were: Mrs. Earl LaBrasseur, Mrs. Ben Karwowski, Mrs. Reuben Swanson, Mrs. Howard Graff, Mrs. Yoder, Mrs. Thor Reque, Mrs. Anthony Nastoff, and Mrs. Alex Creighton, camp nurse. Senior Girl Scouts serving as program aides were: Joan Vaughn, Nadine Reque, Joan Sheahan and Doris Schweikert.

The day's activities were opened each morning with a flag ceremony, in which all of the girls participated. Caper charts were made, designating certain duties to each girl every day, including preparation of the outdoor meals, dish washing, water carrying, and cleanup work. Camp cookery, featuring many unique outdoor dishes, was an important part of each day. Angels on horseback, one of the favorites with the girls, were made by rolling a slice of cold meat around a piece of cheese and fastening with a toothpick, and roasting on a stick. Apple yum yum were apple slices, spread with peanut butter and raisins. Mock angel food, another favorite, was made by dipping squares of bread in Eagle brand milk and cocoanut, then toasting over the fire.

Among the items made during the afternoon handicraft period were the twig name pins and lockets. The lockets were cut from broom handles with the chain braided of cord.

A nature movie featuring wildlife was shown to the girls Thursday afternoon at the conservation headquarters, through the courtesy of Mrs. Walter Wilson. Another treat was the serving of watermelon to the girls Friday afternoon, a gift from Adam Heinz A program, in which each unit contributed, was presented Friday to close camp activities. The Daisy unit, attired in paper grass skirts, presented a hula hula dance, and songs and games were given by the Birds and Tulips.

The second week of the day camp will open next Tuesday morning, continuing through Friday, and indications are that about

People Like The Manistique Area—

The unprecedented wave of tourist traffic that the Manistique area has seen the past few days is proof of at least one thing. Folks like it here. People who visit here tell their friends and their friends tell other friends. The result has been the visit here of thousands of people. We like to think that our business has expanded for the same reason.

Daily Press Boys Seen In L. A. By Former Friends

Dear Mr. Lowell:

Your five wandering newsboys have arrived in Los Angeles, Calif. Our daughter, Miss Mae came home all excited tonight (July 9). She had seen the boys with their station wagon and trailer, driving down on Broadway about 4:15 this afternoon. Believe me, they selected one of the busiest streets in the city about that time of the day. Mae tried to draw their attention, but failed in doing so. Knowing the boys, it was a disappointment for her. We are still in hopes that the wandering newsboys from Manistique will pay us a visit.

Please notify their parents and friends about them being seen in our vicinity.

We haven't arrived at that stage where we can discuss aircraft with that flippant familiarity we accorded motor cars. You could mention this or that make of plane and it wouldn't mean a thing to us. Of course, that does not mean that we are an authority on automobiles. The garage man could tell us most anything about what is wrong with the family bus and we'd have to take his word for it. We wouldn't know the difference, unless it pestered out the same way it did before. But we have a faint idea about what a Ford, Chevelle or a Buick looks like and how much they'll get to the gallon, etc.

JAY ARRELL

But though we confess to abysmal ignorance concerning planes, we feel free to assert that for the two times we've been up in the air, we've made some progress. The first time we went up, we sat in front of the pilot and took what he had to offer. We were fascinated—at times spellbound—and when the pilot dipped sideways to give us a good view of the Big Spring or of Lakeview cemetery, we crossed our fingers, held our breath and wondered if we'd have time to finish the Lord's prayer before we hit the ground. We enjoyed it—like we used to enjoy exploring unlighted hallways of a haunted house when we were a kid.

But the other day we were invited to ride in a new acquisition at the local airport. It was a neat 5 room house close in on paved street. Electricity, plumbing in. New roof. All for just $2300. $1000 down, $23.50 monthly on balance.

little contraption with seating arrangement like a coupe—in fact it suited our fancy better than a motor car because it had a sliding roof which could be opened or closed without any effort. We took off as leisurely as if we were motoring down Cedar street and escaped entirely that former feeling of leaving the world behind.

Ed Jackson, the pilot explained everything as we went and we were astounded at the simplicity of the whole affair. There were two grip-like gadgets in the dash which controlled everything. A turn of the grip to the right and the plane turned right; to the left, it turned to the left; pull it toward you and you zoom, and push it back, you descend.

Ed turned to us with a grin. "Want to try 'er?" Gingerly we grabbed the control. He smiled and folded his hands in his lap. Oh boy! we went through a siege of panic that was much the same as that which we felt when we put an old tin lizzie into gear the first time in our life thirty or more years ago. The plane seemed just a bit too willing to act. We wished, like we did when we drove that flivver, that it would act like a horse and not be so utterly dependent upon the driver. We assumed a sickly grin and hung tough.

We are afraid now that those few moments at the controls did something to us. We know that we'll never be completely satisfied until we acquire the knack of piloting one of these rigs ourselves.

But that wasn't all that there was to the adventure. With our pilot back at the controls, we felt that serenity which passeth all understanding and were perfectly at home. We leaned far over the edge for a better view of what lay below and what we beheld on that journey was something comparatively few people have seen.

From the airport we went to Port Inland, then over the quarry, then to Blaney Park, to Germfask, where we skirted the Seney wildlife refuge, then across country to Hiawatha, to the Big Spring, Indian Lake, Thompson, Manistique and back—a trip easily 130 miles in length and one that revealed far more square mileage in panorama than we would care to estimate.

The sight which fascinated us most was the miles and miles of wilderness which we passed over while flying from Germfask to Hiawatha. Only a few dimly marked double tracked trails were to be seen in this lonesome land. We had thought that this would be one vast forest or at least second growth, but instead most of it was pea-green swampland with timbered tracts making a narrow scalloped fringe. In the bright sunlight it looked like something one sees when looking into a microscope.

All too soon it was over. Hundreds of ideas for something to put into this column suggested themselves, but they have all been crowded out by the insistent memory of that squamish and yet fascinating moment when we grabbed hold of the controls and got the plane shooting up a 45 per cent grade for an additional altitude of at least one thousand feet.

Importance of substructure in roadbuilding is illustrated by the fact that reinforced concrete 10 inches thick has proved deficient when placed on fine-grained instead of coarse-grained material.

No Belly Punch Can Stop Him This Time, Graziano Warns Zale

BY JERRY LISKA

Chicago, July 12 (AP)—Champion Tony Zale and Challenger Rocky Graziano, the latter snarlingly confident that "no punch in the belly's gonna stop me this time," today ended heavy preparations for their second middleweight title scrap at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

TIGERS SUFFER 6-HIT SHUTOUT

Earl Johnson Makes His 1947 Debut Good As Starting Pitcher

Detroit, July 12 (AP)—Lefty Earl Johnson made his 1947 debut as a starting pitcher a crackling success today by hurling the Boston Red Sox into second place in the American league with a 2-0, six-hit shutout of the Detroit Tigers.

Used heretofore this season only on relief jobs, the lanky Sox southpaw accounted for the crucial odd game of the series as Boston supplanted the Tigers in the runnerup spot.

Johnson, besides checking Detroit's offensive, slapped out three singles himself to drive in one Boston run. Dom DiMaggio lofted a homer into the upper left field deck off Al Benton for Boston's initial run in the first inning.

After the first two innings Benton matched Johnson all the way until he was removed for a pinch hitter and the Tigers gave up their hold on second only after a tenacious struggle. The Red Sox now lead Detroit by slightly less than a full game.

Only one Tiger reached third base, Eddie Lake getting there in the first on his single and two outs. Only two reached second.

The Tigers scared the Sox with a rally in the ninth which put two men on, but their old teammate, Birdie Tebbets, outfoxed them to spoil the threat.

Opening the ninth, George Kell walked and Pat Mullin singled. Hoot Evers tried to sacrifice, and Tebbets took a pitch-out to catch Mullin off first base on a snap throw to Bobby Doerr.

The next two men grounded out, assuring Johnson his fourth victory against two defeats.

One Game Salvaged And Indians Cling To Fourth Position

Cleveland, July 12 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians clung to fourth place in the American league race today by salvaging the second game of a twin bill with Philadelphia, 5 to 4, after dropping the opener, 4 to 2.

Ed Klieman, who relieved Les Willis in the fifth inning of the afterpiece, gained his first decision of the season, holding the way. Jesse Flores earned his fourth victory in the opened although he needed aid from Bob Savage in the ninth.

The nightcap was a see-saw battle which saw the Indians cling to 13 hits off Joe Coleman, Savage and Russ Christopher. Hank Edwards clouted his sixth home run of the campaign with one on in the third inning.

OSLO CAPTURES 50-MILE RACE

Escanaba Craft First In Racing Division At Menominee

John Mitchell's sleek Oslo captured first place honors in a 50-mile race at Menominee Saturday, one of the windup events for sailing craft entered in the Escanaba Yacht club cruising race which ended at Menominee Thursday. Finishing second to the Escanaba boat was the Cerasus of Sturgeon Bay and third place was taken by the Flyte of Marinette. The 50-mile event was for racing division boats.

Results were not available for the cruising division race, a 100-mile event which finished late Saturday.

TWIN FEATURE LOST BY CUBS

Flying Dodgers Register 7 To 2 And 6 To 5 Triumphs

Brooklyn, July 12 (AP)—The high flying Brooklyn Dodgers boosted their winning streak to six games today by sweeping a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs, 7-2 and 6-5.

After Joe Hatten subdued the Cubs on seven safeties in the opener, the battling Brooks came from behind by scoring twice in each of the last two frames to take the nightcap with Carl Furillo driving in the winning run with a two-out single.

Hatten doubled on even terms with Chicago's Doyle Lade until the sixth when Ed Stanky singled and Arky Vaughan tripled for the first run of the game. The Brooks shelled Lade from the mound in the seventh by scoring six times.

The sweepers enabled the Dodgers to even their five game losing streak from the Cubs. The Brooks now have beaten the Cubs nine straight times and 12 out of 14 games to win the season's series between the two clubs.

SURGING CARDS WIN 4-0, 11-3

New York, July 12 (AP)—The surging St. Louis Cardinals pulled to within two percentage points of the third place New York Giants today by clipping the New Yorkers, 4-0 and 11-3, before a gathering of 41,645 fans.

Little Murray Dickson stopped the slugging Giants with one hit in the opener, Ernie Lombardi's two out single in the second inning, while the Cards bunched four of their five blows off Monte Kennedy in the ninth to score all of their runs. Enos Slaughter highlighted the Cards' last frame flareup with a three-run homer. The shutout was only the second suffered by the Giants this season.

In the nightcap, the cashing Red Birds clouted five New York hurlers for 15 safeties including homers by Whitey Kurowski and Del Rice. The Birds drove Starter Hooks Iott from the mound with a six run, first inning uprising.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen went the route for the Cards and limited the Giants to seven hits in posting his tenth win of the year. Bill Rigney and Johnny Mize accounted for two of the Giants' runs with first inning homers. The blows were the 11th and 25th —and no excuses or alibis accepted. A few of the local teams still have not fulfilled the requirements.

The Escanaba boxing committee learned a lesson as a result of their July 4 boxing show for the Hiawathaland Festival. The July 4 holiday is not a good time for a boxing show and an afternoon evening show is as desirable as an evening show. Despite the fact that the July 4 card was the best ever offered in the Upper Peninsula, the financial results were discouraging. A net loss of 66 resulted, the first loss on an amateur boxing show here in years.

The Golden Gloves boxing training center will soon be established on the second floor of the Eagles building under a lease arranged between the Lions club and the Eagles lodge. Tenants who have occupied the building have moved out and the quarters will be renovated for boxing training purposes. When the program is reinstated, it will include all youngsters interested in boxing, young and old.

Three big sports events are shaping up at Negaunee in August. The first to be held on V-J day, Aug. 14, will be the Rainbow league all star baseball game, with the North division pitted against the South. Two days later, Aug. 16, the U. P. all-star football game will be played at Negaunee, despite the brickbats of the Michigan High School athletic association. And finally will be the Upper Peninsula finals softball tournament, in which district winners will compete for the championships in Classes A, B and C.

An argument concerning baseball scoring rules developed at Cooks recently as a result of the following situation: With a runner on first, the batter looped a Texas leaguer over second base, which dropped for what appeared to be a base hit. The runner on first, however, failed to go down to second because he believed the ball would be caught and that he might be doubled off first. As a result, he was forced out at second. A base runner at third base scored on the play. The argument: Does the batter get credit for a base hit? The answer is no. The batter is not credited with a hit since the runner at first did not advance to second, but was forced out. The batter gains this base by virtue of a fielder's choice but he is credited with a run batted in, since the runner a third base scored on the play.

The success of the Hiawathaland Festival tennis tournament has prompted a desire to stage a similar event next year and in succeeding years on an annual basis. Tennis fans and civic leaders are studying the situation and probably will go ahead with the idea as soon as a satisfactory financial setup can be attained. This year's costs were absorbed by the Hiawathaland Festival but it is desired to put the event on a self supporting basis. Any suggestions?

Another interesting week of softball went into the records with Wednesday night's battle between the Vets and the Paper Mill standing out as the highlight. After eight innings of scorching action had ended in a 2 to 2 deadlock the "game of the year" blew up in the ninth when the Mill pushed over seven big runs to sew up the ball game, 9 to 12. This victory also gave the Papermakers undisputed possession of first place in the American league, with the V.F.W. dropping to second. No major changes took place in the National but a shakeup is in store for this week as the league-leaders, Public Utilities and K. of C., clash at Memorial Field Monday night in the preliminary at 7:15.

The Texaco Stars earned the "giant killers" title for the week as a result of their upset victory over the V.F.W. on Monday night at No. 4 diamond. Larmays topped Delta Hardware, 8 to 6 in another surprise.

The newly-organized Escanaba Taverns make their league debut this week, meeting Escanaba Township at No. 4 diamond on Monday night and on Wednesday night they face the V. F. W. at Memorial Field in the game of the week. The Taverns are the strong Liberty Loan team of last year.

The new league-leaders, Paper Mill, meet the Delta Hardware on Monday night at Memorial Field in another game which promises to be interesting. On Tuesday night the Texaco Stars tangle with the Birdseye under the lights. The feature tilt for Thursday night pits Liberty Loan against People's Bar on Memorial Field at 8:45.

All team managers are reminded to hand in their revised player lists immediately. Although the rosters were in at the start of the season, most teams have released or added players since then. The deadline is July 15th at midnight.

Great Assault Boosts His Pot Over $600,000

By Victory At Jamaica

BY SID FEDER

New York, July 12 (AP)—Assault took back the world money-winning championship today that Stymlie borrowed from him last week by picking up what amounted to the entire grand stand and clubhouse and carrying it home in the Butler Handicap at Jamaica. And if there was any lingering doubt that the Clubfoot Comet from Texas had moved from just a short neck in front of Stymlie to become the first galloper to boost his bankroll over the $600,000 mark.

VETERANS TAKE NIGHT TILT, 6-2

Larmays Defeat Newly Organized Taverns By 4-1 Count

Escanaba's VFW softball team scored a 9-inning, 6 to 2 victory last night in a game with the Hoskings and Harvey aggregation from Iron Mountain at the Escanaba Memorial field. Louie Kositzke pitched a five-hitter for the Vets, with Dave Larson on the receiving end. Zawada and Trepp performed for the visitors.

The line score:
Esc. VFW ... 001 032 00x—6 9 5
Iron Mtn. ... 101 000 000—2 5 2
Larmays defeated the newly-organized Taverns in an opener of the lighted field double bill, 4 and 1. Batteries were: Brayak and Bittner for Larmays, Els and Wood for the Taverns.

Reese Tagged Out Picking Up A Bat; It Was In Brooklyn

Brooklyn, July 12 (AP)—Of course it happened in Brooklyn! It was a bright, sunny day and in the third inning of the second game against Chicago's Cubs.

The Dodgers' Peeewe Reese was on first base. Dixie Walker was at bat and when he missed a curve the bat slipped out of his hands and skidded down first. Reese leisurely stepped off the bag to pick up the bat and as he started to return it the business-minded Bruins tagged him out, the ball going from Clyde McCullough to Ed Waitkus to Len Merullo.

NOTICE OF ADOPTING A ROAD INTO THE
COUNTY ROAD SYSTEM
At a regular meeting of the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Delta, Michigan, held June 28, 1947, by a majority vote and vote of said Commission, it was determined to take over and constitute as a county road, under the provisions of Chapter IV of Act 263, Public Acts of 1909, as amended, the following described road:

Home Run (200 ft.) Features GOP Win In Ballgame, 16-13

BY ARTHUR EDSON

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Sparked by a pint-sized 200-foot homerun by Rep. Glenn Davis (R-Wis.), the Republicans won the congressional baseball game today, 16-13.

The Republican landslide came in the fifth. They went into that inning trailing, 7-11. But Rep. Donald Jackson (R-Calif.) whacked out a single that brought in a couple of runs.

Then Davis, who has been a congressman for only three months, strode to the plate with two men on.

The fellow on the loudspeaker reminded the crowd that whoever got the longest blow in this inning would win a washing machine, gift of a local electrical firm.

Undoubtedly thinking of Monday's wash, Davis laid into one.

As it floated over second, in came Rep. Cooley (D-N.C.) who had been stationed in centerfield. Cooley and the ball passed each other without so much as a nod of recognition about 150 feet from home plate.

Davis puffed around third as if he had that washer tied to one foot, but he made it. The Republicans were ahead 10-13.

The 200 fans, contributing to a local police boys' fund, had their biggest thrill.

Just to show you what kind of game it was, twice runners stole bases only to find them occupied already.

The game literally ended with a bang. It was early in the seventh, storm clouds were rolling across, when suddenly a thunderclap hit—apparently about 30 feet above Griffith Field. By unanimous consent, the ball game was over.

Score by innings:

Dem. 202 701 1—13 14 (censored)
Rep. 502 063 2—16 14 (censored)

Schoolboy Scores Ninth Victory And Beats Pirates, 4-2

Philadelphia, July 12 (AP)—Schoolboy Rowe won his ninth victory of the season against four defeats as he held the Pirates to three hits, one of which was Jimmy Bloodworth's second home run, and pitched the Phillies to a 4-2 victory over Pittsburgh here today before 7,000 before retiring in the ninth because of a sore elbow.

Only 27 men faced Rowe. He also made two hits. The Phillies, on the other hand, nicked Truett Sewell for 10 safeties, including Al Lakeman's third homer to take a 3-1 lead in the fourth and go on to win and take the series 3-1.

Pittsburgh took a 1-0 lead in the first half of the third when Jimmy Bloodworth hit his second home run of the season into the left field stands. But the Phillies came right back in their half to score two runs and take a 2-1 lead.

Al Lakeman, first baseman of the Phils hit his third home run of the season in the fourth to give the Phils a 3-1 advantage. The Phils raised their lead to 4-1 in the seventh when Rowe singled and was forced by Jackie Albright who scored on Harry Walker's triple.

'Brains' Confesses Safe Cracking In Michigan, Indiana

Grand Rapids, July 1. (AP)—Alex Jeronis, 32, former convict in southern Michigan prison and regarded by officers as the "brains" of a gang, members of which, police say, have confessed to a large number of safe burglaries in Michigan and Indiana in the last three years, was making a complete confession Saturday afternoon, according to Assistant Prosecutor Roger McMahon.

The prosecutor said Jeronis broke down when he learned his wife, Darva, 21, could be held as an accomplice if he "did not come clean."

Details of the statement were not disclosed, but McMahon said the confession was being made in the presence of Kent County Sheriff Hugh Blacklock and his deputies, George Laman and Arnold Pigors.

Sigler And Party Stop At Denver On Their Flying Trip

Denver, Colo., July 12 (AP)—Governor Kim Sigler and his party, enroute to the Salt Lake Governors' conference, was scheduled tonight to see a performance at the famous old Central City opera house which was built in Colorado's boom town days.

The Governor, accompanied by his executive secretary, George Averill, and Fay Thomas, manager of the Detroit Book-Cadillac hotel, lunched today at the Colorado Springs Broadmoor hotel as part of a flying trip around the state.

Sigler reached the Brown hotel just as New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey was leaving. Asked about Dewey's prospects for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination, Sigler replied:

"Michigan has a very distinguished senator named Vandenberg."

When reminded that Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg had disclaimed his candidacy, the Michigan governor declared, "Who wouldn't want to be president?"

Report Describes Filth At Pontiac Mental Hospital

Lansing, July 12 (AP)—Dr. Charles A. Zeller, director of the Department of Mental Health, said today that he would confer with state officials on charges of "almost unbelievable" abuse of patients at the Pontiac state hospital.

Both Dr. Zeller and Dr. Perry V. Wagley, superintendent of the hospital, denied that mistreatment of mental patients, as outlined in the Phillips report to the state legislature, existed at the present time.

"All known instances of mistreatment of patients have long since been cleared up," Dr. Bagley said.

State Representative Harry J. Phillips, Port Huron Republican, filed a report Saturday with the Legislature charging that patients were "choked and beaten until they were unconscious" by attendants at the big Pontiac institution.

He asserted that 24 attendants were fired in the past two years for abusing patients and for incompetence.

Governor To Act

Phillips asked Gov. Sigler to order a "thorough investigation" into the hospital.

At Denver, Colo., Sigler, enroute to a governors' conference, said: "When I get back to Lansing I will study the whole situation carefully and make up my mind as to proper procedure."

He ordered Arlon G. Ley, special administrative assistant, to obtain a copy of the Phillips report, a report from the mental health commission and from "anyone else who knows anything about the situation."

Phillips quoted an unnamed woman investigator, who spent 30 days in the Pontiac hospital in 1945 as an attendant, as saying patients were "herded like cattle" and forced to sleep on "hard, cold" floors.

This woman, according to the Phillips report, described the floors of the institution as "deplorable with  filth" and said they were "always scrubbed by some patient, never by a nurse or attendant."

M-eals Skippy

She charged that meals were scanty and that the 2,400 patients did not receive "more than half of the calories necessary to maintain a normal person."

Dr. Zeller replied: "Before making any official statement, I want to talk this matter over with the mental health commission and other state officials."

He added that his department would "welcome any investigation," admitting that "we have been cognizant of a lot of these things."

"Some of the things listed in the 1945 report may have been very true," Dr. Zeller went on. "There was a large turnover of personnel during the war years."

"I have seen no evidence of those things existing at the present time. If these things existed two years ago, they are pretty well cleaned up now."

Dr. Zeller is scheduled to leave Michigan Aug. 1 to accept a similar health department post with the state of Indiana.

Dr. Wagley said the incidents in the Phillips report "occurred more than two years ago" when he was absent on military service.

He declared that patients are fed an adequate diet, much of which referring to so-called "disturbed" wards. Dr. Wagley said "we admit these patients are difficult to handle, both because of their condition and the caliber of help we are able to employ."

"Abuse, even in these wards, is not tolerated when known," he added, "but accidents in dealing with patients who are violent sometimes will occur."

"We would welcome an investigation by the governor or his legal representatives at any time."

Keyes reply, again in reference to Sigler's Higgins lake speech. "But I'm not going to get caught with my pants down again a week or two before the primary."

Sigler, attending a governors' conference in Utah, was not available for comment.

Obituary

MRS. MARION G. WALIMAA

The body of Mrs. Marion G. Walimaa, who passed away at Oakland county sanitarium in Pontiac Wednesday morning, will be removed to the Finnish church at Rock at 11:30 a. m. today. Funeral services will be held at 12:30 with Rev. Amos Marin of Gwinn officiating. Burial will be in the family lot in Rock cemetery.

Restaurant Owner Husband Accused Of Trunk Murder

San Luis Obispo, Calif., July 12 (AP)—Morley V. King, missing 46-year-old restaurant operator, today was charged with the "trunk murder" of his wife, a reputed former Portuguese countess.

The warrant was signed by Sheriff Murray Hathway.

The "wanted for murder" bulletins added impetus to the widening search for King, who disappeared 30 hours before his wife's body was found stuffed into a trunk under the kitchen porch of the Andrews hotel.

Search for the man had been under way since Wednesday, when the body was found. Mrs. King was known as the former wife of a Portuguese count. King married her in 1930 at Casa Blanca.

The hunt first centered at Reno, because of reports King had said he was "going to do some gambling" and because the license of his car was reported registered at Yosemite National Park, but no further trace of him was found.
